FOREWORD

The Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations (CCDO) was initially published in 1971 by the Department of Manpower and Immigration, in consultation with Statistics Canada. The CCDO is a taxonomic structure which classifies and defines occupational activity in the Canadian world of work.

The world of work, however, is not a static force, and the degree of change since the first publication of the CCDO has resulted in the commencement of a program for its progressive revision. Each year, related groups of occupations will be completely revised and updated, and will be published in separate book form, rather than forming a part of a single large volume. In addition, the CCDO GUIDE will be revised and republished annually, so that the continuing accuracy and usefulness of the CCDO System will be assured.

The CCDO GUIDE is arranged in seven sections:

- Information Section
- Conversion Tables
- Introduction Section
- Appendices
- New CCDO Occupational Descriptions
- CCDO Placement Guide
- Index

The Information Section describes items both current and future pertaining to the CCDO and its related publications, and will provide preliminary information on new counselling tools related to the CCDO.

The section entitled "Conversion Tables" lists all changes in the classification of Major Groups 61, 71, 73, 75, 77 and 87, including new occupations, obsolete occupations, occupations which have been combined or fractionated, and occupations which were transferred from one group to another. Where the title of an occupation has changed (except sex-discriminatory titles, which have been converted in a separate publication), both the old and new titles are also listed.

The Introduction Section serves as the comprehensive accompaniment to the basic CCDO System. This section explains the classification structure, special grouping procedures, methods of locating occupations in the CCDO, and other information vital to all CCDO users. It must be stressed that although each Major Group book may be used on its own, only in the CCDO GUIDE will one find the key to the entire system.

The Appendices section contains an explanation of worker traits, or those abilities, personal traits and individual characteristics required of a worker in order to achieve average, successful job performance. Also included is an explanation of worker functions in relation to Data, People and Things.

The Section entitled "New CCDO Occupational Descriptions" owes its existence to the many Canada Employment Counsellors, business firms, and private users who requested assistance in locating certain occupations, or who were kind enough to supply information on occupations which had not been previously described in the CCDO.

The CCDO Placement Guide Section contains approximately 2,000 elemental and labouring jobs which have been regrouped into five basic groups and seventeen sub-groups. The regrouping is based on similarity of work activities and industrial environment. It is designed to assist individuals in considering alternatives in their job search.

The Index Section is comprised of a large basic alphabetical listing of all CCDO job and occupational titles. It also contains an alphabetical index of industry designations and their definitions.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This publication was prepared by the Occupational and Career Analysis and Development Branch, Canada Employment and Immigration Commission, under the direction of L.G. Dixon, Manager, Occupational Analysis and Classification Systems.

Staff members who made significant contributions to the preparation of this publication were: F.R. Bertrand, G.D. Robertson, K. Laing, L. Marshall, M. Juneau, R. Berger and L. Mitchell. INFORMATION SECTION

Within the next few years, a series of approximately ten books will replace the present CCDO Volume I. The first book covers Major Group 87 — Construction Occupations; the second book is Major Group 61 — Service Occupations; and the third book includes Major Groups 71, 73, 75 and 77 — Primary Products Occupations. These Major Groups have been completely revised and updated, and each Major Group book contains a revised and expanded alphabetical Index of all job and occupational titles applicable to the Major Group(s) described.

Within the next year, Major Group 41 — Clerical and Related Occupations, Major Group 51 — Sales Occupations, Major Group 23 — Occupations in Social Sciences and Related Fields, Major Group 25 — Occupations in Religion; Major Group 27 — Teaching and Related Occupations, and Major Group 31 — Occupations in Medicine and Health are scheduled for revision.

Many new and distinctive features will be noted in the Major Group books. For example, only one occupational title, the CCDO Title, will appear with each occupational description. All other job and occupational titles, now known simply as Additional Titles, will appear in the Index only. Aptitude, interest and temperament ratings have been appended to each occupational description to eliminate the necessity of referring to Volume 2 for this information. Apprenticeable occupations have been assigned their own unique seven-digit code, occupational title, and reference definition. As the revision of Major Groups progresses, all apprenticeable occupations within each group will be defined and assigned seven-digit codes.

In January 1977, the CCDO *Manual of Sex-Free

Occupational Titles was released, in which all titles previously considered to be sex-discriminatory have been deleted or amended to remove any possible bias. While these titles have been included in the Index to assist users in matching old titles with amended titles, their inclusion does not infer their official recognition by CCDO. Future publications, including the Major Group books, will be free of sex-discriminatory titles.

New publications related to CCDO called ACT (Access a Career by Traits) are currently being developed. ACT is a series of employment and career counselling tools which make it possible to access occupations using various occupational characteristics. The access variables include Aptitude Levels, Interests, Temperaments, Worker Functions (DPT), Holland Codes, General Educational Development (GED), and Specific Vocational Preparation (SVP). ACT can be used for career exploration, counselling and placement.

The initial ACT will be accessed by means of a simple key-sort system. Each ACT will contain approximately 300 occupations, is easy to use, and can be self-administered.

All occupations in the CCDO have now been converted to Holland Codes and will be contained in a special publication. This publication will comprise a list of the occupations and a three-letter Holland Code for each occupation. Another list will contain occupations grouped according to each combination of Holland Codes.

As can be seen, a vigorous program is underway to keep users of the CCDO up-to-date in the ever-changing world of work, and to make it easier for them to make full use of this important source of occupational data.

CONVERSION TABLES

Changes in Occupational Titles and Codes

From 1971 CCDO to Major Group Books 61, 71, 73, 75, 77, 87

If an occupational classification system is to accurately reflect the world of work, it must be sufficiently flexible to adjust to the dynamics of an ever-changing world. New occupations emerge, others become obsolete, and still others combine or fractionate. The change in format of the CCDO from a single volume to many small books of related Major Groups, together with this GUIDE as an annual supplement, is intended to accommodate these many changes.

The conversion tables, beginning on the next page, have been compiled to acquaint users of the CCDO with changes in the classification structure which have occurred as a result of the revision of Major Groups 61, 71, 73, 75, 77 and 87. The following changes are described:

- New occupations — those which have emerged since the 1971 CCDO, or which had not been previously described in the CCDO.
- Obsolete occupations — those which studies have shown to be either obsolete or reduced to insignificant numbers for classification purposes.
- Combined occupations — those which have been combined to form a single, new occupation.
- Fractionated occupations — those which have fractionated into two or more separate and distinct occupations.
- Transferred occupations — those which have been transferred from one group to another to enable easier and more accurate coding.
- Changes in titles — those occupations in which the titles have changed but the duties themselves have remained much the same (except sex-discriminatory titles, which have been converted in a separate publication).

As the revision of Major Groups progresses, further changes will be described in the next annual edition of the CCDO Guide.

INTRODUCTION SECTION

THE CLASSIFICATION STRUCTURE

The CCDO is a systematic and comprehensive arrangement of occupational descriptions reflecting the work performed by the Canadian people. These descriptions represent a summary of the significant activities of a number of similar jobs that may be found in different establishments or industries. The significant duties, or the "kind of work performed", act as the basic principle for classifying occupations.

The classification structure consists of four levels of occupational categorization, each providing successively finer detail:

1. The Major Group
2. The Minor Group
3. The Unit Group
4. The Individual Occupations

In the classification structure, there are 23 Major Groups which represent occupations identified only on a very broad basis. Each Major Group has a two-digit code number, a title, and a definition which summarizes the occupational activities in the group.

The Major Groups are subdivided into 81 Minor Groups, each with distinguishing characteristics. Each Minor Group has a three-digit code number, a title, and a summarizing definition which may contain notes required to explain unusual factors.

The third level of aggregation is comprised of 499 Unit Groups, which represent a collection of more closely-related occupations. Unit Groups have a four-digit code number, a title, and a definition. Unit Group definitions conform to the same pattern as those of the Major and Minor Groups, but are more specific in their description of occupational activity.

Finally, the Unit Groups are broken down into individual, unique occupations (some 6,700 in the 1971 CCDO), an occupation being the narrowest category specifically identified in the classification system. An individual occupation is identified by a seven-digit code number and a title, such as 8784-114 PLASTERER. The last three digits (-114), called the terminal digits, provide the unique code number within the classification structure for each occupation. Terminal digits also determine the sequence of occupations within a Unit Group, for occupations are normally arranged in a descending order of complexity as determined by training time requirements. Terminal digits begin with (-110), and are normally spaced in increments of two or more to allow for the future inclusion of additional occupations.

While classification into Major, Minor or Unit Groups is usually based on a similarity of work performed, supplementary criteria are also used to further clarify the nature of the work performed.

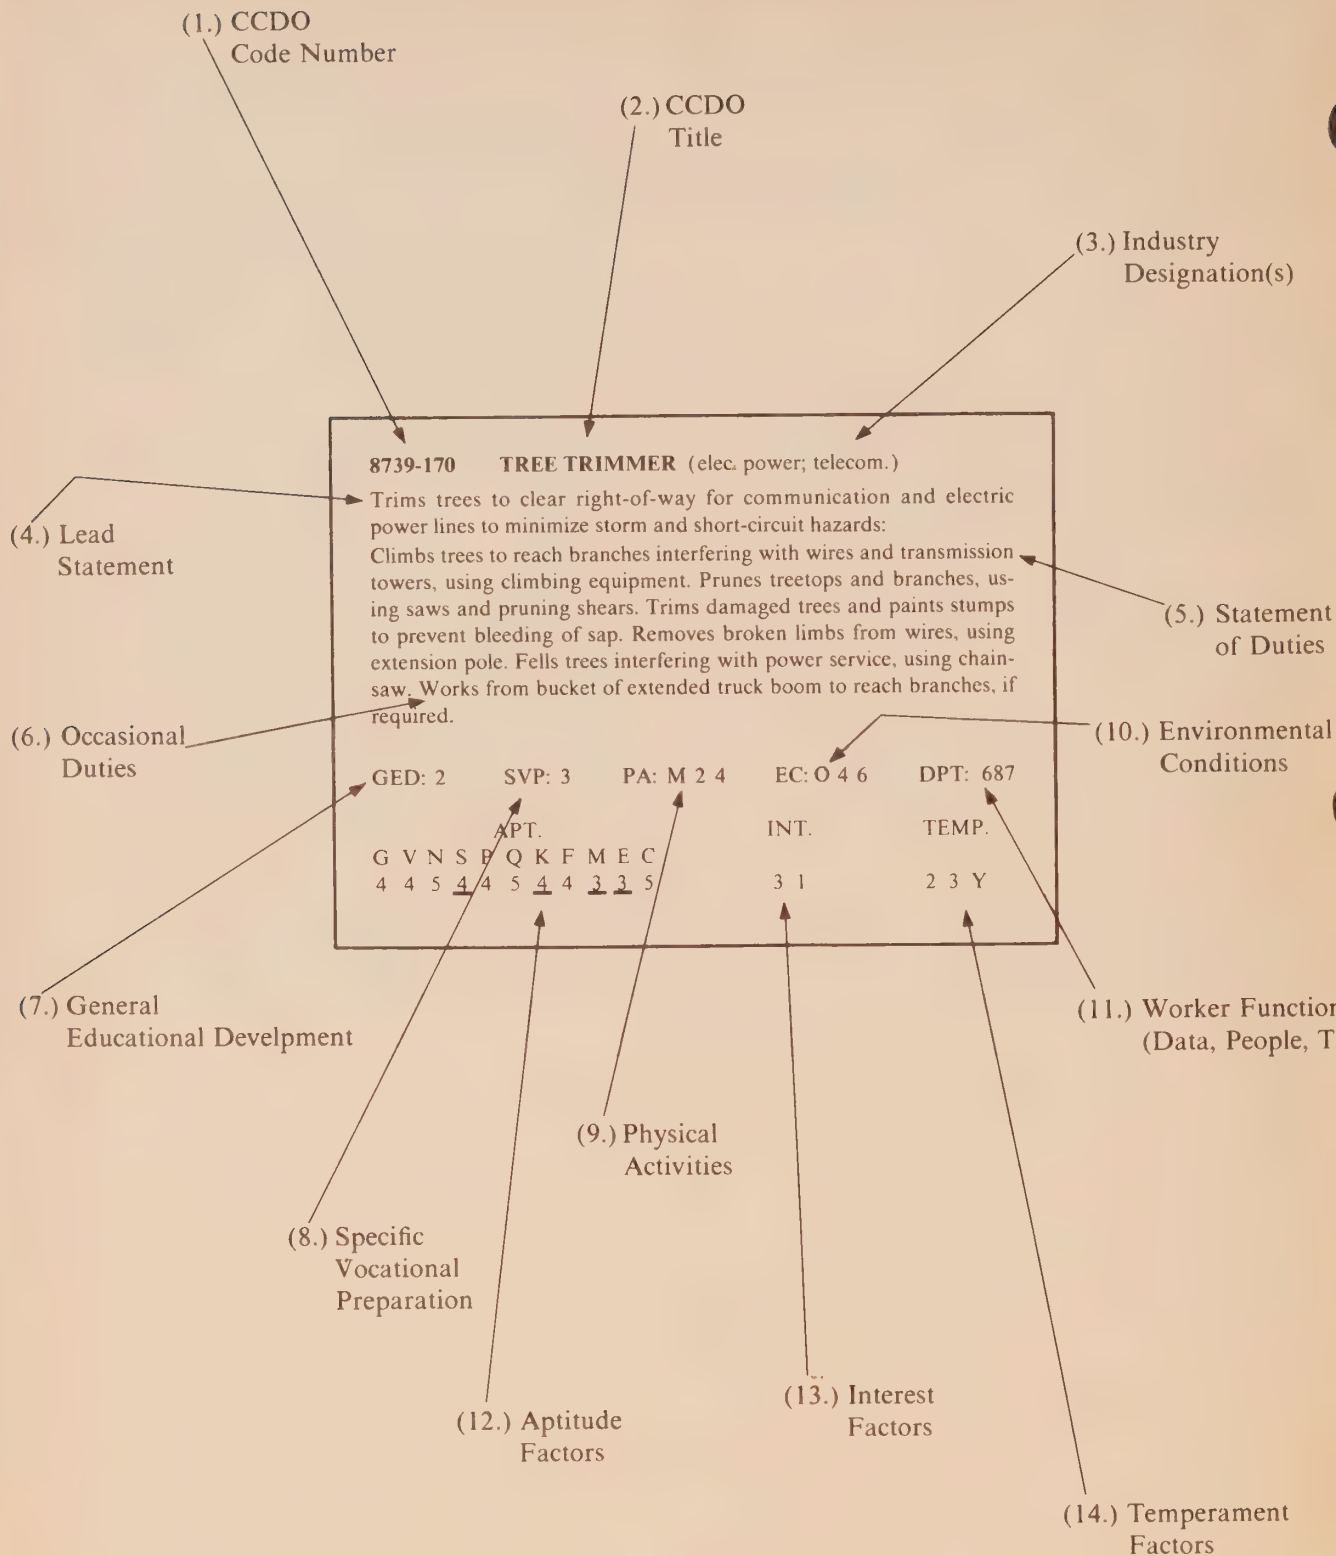

Similarity of services provided, or the assembly and repair of similar articles are frequently used to aid in classifying occupational activity. Occupations may be grouped according to subject matter, as are chemists, because the work is complementary, as is the case with doctors and nurses, or because their functions are closely related. Other occupations are differentiated largely by the complexity of the work, or by the degree of responsibility involved, such as managers, foremen/women, supervisors and the like. Processes involved, materials used or produced, and equipment used are further illustrations of the criteria used to determine the classification structure.

THE CCDO OCCUPATIONAL DESCRIPTION

The term "occupation" refers to a number of jobs which have the same basic work content, even though the duties may vary somewhat, and though they may be found in different establishments or industries. To clarify this, the occupational descriptions in the CCDO consist of a number of different components which collectively provide a realistic representation of the essential nature of the occupation. An actual CCDO occupational description, in which each component has been numbered and labelled, appears on the following page.

THE CCDO OCCUPATIONAL DESCRIPTION

NOTE: Information concerning components of this occupational description follows.

- (1) The CCDO Code Number The full seven-digit code number (8739-170) indicates the exact location of the occupation within the classification structure.
- (2) The CCDO Title This is the title by which the occupation is most commonly known in Canada, or which is most descriptive of the occupation. Called the "CCDO Title", it may occasionally assume an inverted form, such as trimmer, tree. To ensure easy access to the occupational description corresponding to a known occupational title, one can use either the Index accompanying this GUIDE, or the smaller Index provided with each Major Group book.
- (3) The Industry Designation(s) for an occupation appear in abbreviated form in brackets immediately following the CCDO title. The use of industry designations helps to differentiate between occupations with the same title, but with different occupational activity. In addition, most industry designations offer further occupational information by indicating the type of economic activity in which the occupation is found. Should an occupation have two or three industry designations, they will be listed in alphabetical order following the CCDO title. If an occupation has four or more industry designations, the designation used is any industry (any ind.).
- (4) The Lead Statement is a concise description of the nature and purpose of the occupation. It describes the principal duties of the worker, and gives a general indication of how the occupation differs from other occupations.
- (5) The Statement of Duties is necessarily a broad description of the nature and scope of the work involved. This description will not always coincide exactly with the duties required in every job situation, but it does indicate, either directly or by inference, what the workers normally do, how, and why they do it.
- (6) Occasional Duties are normally described at the end of the statement of duties, and are identified through the use of an "if required" clause.
- (7) General Educational Development (GED) embraces those aspects of education (both formal and informal) which contribute to a worker's reasoning development, the ability to follow instructions, and the acquisition of such tool knowledge as mathematical and language skills. The GED level required by an occupation can be numerically expressed according to an approximate duration of formal schooling, according to the following table:

| GED Levels | Approximate Duration of Schooling |
|------------|-----------------------------------|
| 6 | 17 years plus |
| 5 | 13 to 16 years |
| 4 | 11 to 12 years |
| 3 | 9 to 10 years |
| 2 | 6 to 8 years |
| 1 | Less than 6 years |

A complete explanation of GED is included in Appendix A of the CCDO GUIDE.

When interpreting the GED level, it must be remembered that informal educative aspects such as previous work experiences, self-study, travelling, and such avocational pursuits as hobbies and leisure activities must also be considered, if it is to be occupationally significant. The GED levels given in the CCDO are not absolute: they must be regarded only as a guide to the approximate level required to attain average, satisfactory work performance.

- (8) Specific Vocational Preparation (SVP) is an expression of the time required to learn the techniques and skills needed for satisfactory performance in an occupation. SVP and GED are separate, although related factors, which are interdependent in their functions: both must be considered in determining the training time requirements of a given occupation. SVP does not include the time required for orientation of a worker to a new job for which he/she is fully qualified. However, it does include any specific preparation which is occupationally significant, whether it is acquired through universities, vocational schools, apprenticeship, on-the-job training, or previous work experience.

Appendix B of the CCDO GUIDE explains the various numerical levels used to express SVP. The various forms of Specific Vocational Preparation are also described.

- (9) Environmental Conditions The environmental conditions designation (EC) is used to indicate the significant physical surroundings of a worker. Because each individual occupation is governed by a unique set of circumstances, a thorough knowledge of both PA and EC ratings is vital in order to accommodate the possible physical limitations of a worker. A complete description of the various factors which govern EC ratings can be found in Appendix C of the CCDO GUIDE.
- (10) Physical Activities The physical activities designation (PA) is used to indicate the significant physical demands placed on a worker by an occupation. A detailed explanation of the terms used in assigning the PA designation can be found in Appendix D of the CCDO GUIDE.

Please note that the presence or absence of Physical Activities (PA) factors in a CCDO occupational definition is not to be misconstrued as indicating that the physically handicapped can or cannot perform the duties of that occupation.

- (11) Worker Functions This designation provides a standard terminology for use in summarizing what a worker does on the job. It is based on the premise that every worker is required to function in relation to Data, People, and Things (DPT) at various levels. The functional relationships are expressed by means of verbs descriptive of the basic occupational activity, and fall into three broad categories of approximately descending complexity. A complete explanation of the verbs used to express the DPT relationship is given in Appendix E of the CCDO GUIDE.
- (12) Aptitude Factors The CCDO defines aptitudes as the specific capacity or potentiality of an individual required in order to facilitate the learning of the skills needed for a task or job duties. Eleven aptitude factors are used, each one having a numerical rating which expresses the level achieved by a corresponding percentage of the working population:

1. Upper 10%
2. Upper third exclusive of the highest 10%
3. Middle third
4. Lowest third exclusive of the lowest 10%
5. Lowest 10%

When these levels are underscored, as in 44544544335,

they are considered to be significant for satisfactory job performance.

Definitions of the eleven aptitude factors are provided in Appendix F of this GUIDE.

- (13) Interest Factors are regarded as being significant qualification requirements of an occupation, for numerous studies have illustrated a strong correlation between job satisfaction, performance, and a positive interest in the job. For CCDO purposes, an interest is defined as a tendency to become absorbed in an experience through concern in or attraction for certain types of work experiences or activities. There are five pairs of factors used to rate interest, grouped so that a positive concern for one factor of a pair will usually result in rejection of the other factor of that pair.

SPECIAL GROUPING PROCEDURES

For various reasons, it is not always possible to provide a group with appropriate homogeneity for all occupations which must be classified. Several different residual groups have been created to accommodate those occupations which cannot be satisfactorily classified in other groups of the structure. These residual groups are:

1. Residual Major Group 99
 2. Residual Minor Groups
 3. Residual Unit Groups
 4. Seven-Digit Residual Groups
 5. Special Unit Groups
 6. Special n.e.c. Groups
1. Residual Major Group 99 Major Group 99 – OCCUPATIONS NOT ELSEWHERE CLASSIFIED enjoys the dual distinction of being the only residual Major Group, as well as being the last Major Group in the CCDO. It is used to classify those occupations which cannot be properly classified in any other Major Group of the structure. It is also used to classify occupations having duties which are classifiable in more than one Major Group.
 2. Residual Minor Groups Residual Minor Groups, of which there are only about a dozen in the whole of the CCDO, enable classification of two types of occupations:
 - (a) Occupations which, although belonging in the same Major Group, cannot be classified in one of its other Minor Groups;
 - (b) Occupations whose duties are pertinent to more than one Minor Group.

With few exceptions, a Residual Minor Group has a three-digit code number, composed of its Major Group code number and ending in the digit “9”. The group title of a Residual Minor Group is identical to that of its Major Group, but is preceded by the word “Other”: for example, Residual Minor Group 239 – OTHER OCCUPATIONS IN SOCIAL SCIENCES AND RELATED FIELDS.
 3. Residual Unit Groups are the obvious extension of Residual Minor Groups. They serve the same function of further classifying those occupations which belong in the same Minor Group, but cannot be classified in one of its other Unit Groups. Similarly, they provide for classification of those occupations whose duties are pertinent to more than one of these Unit Groups. A Residual Unit

Interest factor definitions are provided in Appendix F.

- (14) Temperament Factors Complementing the interest factor ratings, and designed to be used in conjunction with them, are ratings of temperament. The CCDO defines temperament as being those personality qualities which remain fairly constant, and which reveal a person’s characteristic response in terms of a preference, inclination or disposition. Temperament traits are evaluated through the use of twelve factors which are defined in terms of actual work situations. Taken singly or in any combination, they produce a temperament profile indicative of the qualities and adjustments required of a worker by a given occupation.

Definitions of the twelve temperament factors are provided in Appendix F.

Group can be identified by a four-digit code number which ends in “9”. Its title is the same as that of the Minor Group, with the added notation “n.e.c.”, meaning “not elsewhere classified”. An example of a Residual Unit Group is 2399 – OTHER OCCUPATIONS IN SOCIAL SCIENCES AND RELATED FIELDS, N.E.C.

4. Seven-Digit Residual Groups The Seven-Digit Residual Group title and definition is a device used to provide an appropriate location in which users can temporarily classify new or emerging occupations, prior to their formal inclusion in the classification structure. The code number for a Seven-Digit Residual Group always ends in “99”, and its title will usually consist of the word “OTHER”, followed by the title of its Unit Group; for example, 8793-199 OTHER STRUCTURAL METAL ERECTORS. Because it relates to more than one occupation, a Seven-Digit Residual Group title does not have an industry designation, nor is it assigned occupational characteristics (GED, SVP, PA, EC, DPT). When this type of title and definition is used, it will always appear as the last one in its Unit Group.
5. Special Unit Groups There are three groups of occupations which have been given special treatment at the unit level of aggregation, although strictly speaking they are not “residual” groups. Like a Residual Group, however, each of these three groups can be readily identified by a unique code number:
 - (a) Supervisors and Foremen/women Unit Groups have a four-digit code number ending in “0”, such as Unit Group 8260 – FOREMAN/WOMAN, TEXTILE PROCESSING OCCUPATIONS.
 - (b) Inspectors, Testers, Graders and Samplers Unit Groups have a four-digit code number ending in “6”, as in Unit Group 7516 – LOG INSPECTING, GRADING, SCALING AND RELATED OCCUPATIONS.
 - (c) Labourers and Other Elemental Workers Unit Groups can be easily identified by a unique four-digit code number ending in “8”; for example, Unit Group 8148 – OCCUPATIONS IN LABOURING AND OTHER ELEMENTAL WORK, METAL PROCESSING.
6. Special n.e.c. Groups There are certain Minor and Unit Groups with the designation “n.e.c.” included in their title, but which do not have a code number ending in “9”; for example, Unit Group 8395 – PATTERNMAKERS AND MOULDMAKERS, N.E.C. The n.e.c. designation is included to indicate that Unit Group 8395 is not the only group for workers who make patterns and moulds.

There is one further type of group used in the CCDO. This is the Sub-Group, which stands somewhat apart as being neither a Major, Minor or Unit Group, nor a Residual Group. In some instances, it proves useful to arrange occupations that could logically be grouped together into Sub-Groups within the Unit Group. Sub-Groups have descriptive titles, and while they indicate the range of occupational code numbers contained, they are neither separately numbered nor defined. An example of sub-grouping can be found within Unit Group 8215 — SLAUGHTERING AND MEAT CUTTING, CANNING, CURING AND PACKING OPERATIONS. This Unit Group has three Sub-Groups of related occupations, arranged as usual in a descending order of complexity as determined by training time requirements:

1. Slaughtering and Meat Cutting Occupations
8215-110 through 8215-178
2. Meat Preparing, Preserving and Packing Occupations
8215-198 through 8215-310
3. Edible and Inedible By-Products Processing Occupations
8215-330 through 8215-362

It will be noted that an interval of twenty is provided between CCDO sub-group code numbers, to allow for future occupational developments: 8215-178 to 8215-198; 8215-310 to 8215-330.

TYPES OF OCCUPATIONAL TITLES

An occupational title represents, in a word or phrase, what people do for a living, the activity in which they are engaged, their principal business, calling, pursuit or employment. Obviously, brevity and clarity are major determining factors of a useful occupational title. To assist in the expression of occupational activity in a concise but meaningful form, a number of different types of titles have been used in the CCDO:

1. The CCDO Title
2. Additional Titles
3. The Seven-Digit Residual Group Title
4. The Master Title
5. The Term Title
6. The General Title

1. The CCDO Title The occupational title accompanying each description is the CCDO Title, which is the title having the most common usage, or which is most descriptive of the work activity. It identifies the type of work described in the occupational description, and is printed in bold-face, upper-case font, preceded by the CCDO Code Number, and followed by the appropriate industry designation(s):

8715-150 TRACK PATROLLER (rail trans.)

The CCDO Title is located in the Alphabetical Index to each Major Group book, as well as in the CCDO Index which forms a part of this GUIDE.

2. Additional Titles are simply other titles by which an occupation may be known, and are provided to assist in the identification and location of an occupation. This proves useful for those occupations which are known by different names in different parts of the country, or which are found in a number of industries. An Additional Title may also be supplied to reflect a more specific work situation than that expressed by the CCDO Title. For example, by referring to the alphabetical indices it can be seen that burglar-alarm servicer and fire-alarm servicer are Additional Titles to the CCDO Title 8735-142 PROTECTIVE-SIGNAL SERVICER (telecom.). Note that Additional Titles are printed in bold-face, lower-case font, and appear with a seven-digit code number and industry designation:

8715-150 track walker (rail trans.)

3. The Seven-Digit Residual Group Title is not a true occupational title, nor has it been assigned occupational characteristics. However, it has been assigned its own unique code number, and it differs from the CCDO Title by being prefaced with the word "OTHER", and by not having an industry designation. The Seven-Digit Residual Group Title is printed in the same script as is the CCDO Title: 8793-199 OTHER STRUCTURAL METAL ERECTORS.

4. The Master Title Each Master Title has a definition describing duties which are common to a relatively large number of occupations. Reference to a Master Title in an occupational description or Unit Group definition therefore eliminates constant repetition, and so serves as a single source of information for specific occupations with common work elements or duties. Since a Master Title is not in itself a unique occupation, but rather describes duties that are common to a number of different jobs or disciplines, the usual seven-digit occupational code number has been replaced by a five-digit identification number: for example, 01-250 SUPERVISOR; FOREMAN/WOMAN (any ind.). The initial digits (01-) designate a Master Title, and the terminal digits (-250) place the title within the alphabetical classification system of Master Titles. Master Titles, together with their definitions, industry designations and code numbers are included in each Major Group book.
5. The Term Title Each Term Title has a definition describing such factors as work performed or conditions which are common to occupations having the same generic title, such as "Assistant" or "Helper". Reference to a Term Title in an occupational description enables the reader to view the relationship between the defined occupation and other occupations which share the same generic title. Each occupational description that refers to a Term Title definition is complete in itself, but the information contained in the Term Title definition provides useful supplementary information.

Refer to the occupational description for 8799-262 FLOOR-COVERER HELPER (construction), and it will be noticed that the last sentence of the statement of duties makes reference to 02-160 HELPER (any ind.). Like the Master Title, a Term Title is assigned an industry designation, and it has its own five-digit identification number beginning with 02-. Once again, the terminal digits (-160) are used to place the title within the alphabetical classification system of Term Titles. Term Titles, together with their definitions, industry designations and code numbers are included in each Major Group book.

As a word of caution, if a Unit Group definition refers to a Term Title, then it is not referred to in the occupational description itself. It is important to read the Unit Group definition first, before proceeding to the occupational descriptions.

6. The General Title may be given to an occupation in which a worker performs duties common to a number of occupational specialities. The word GENERAL appears in the title for all general definitions; however, use of this word in titles is not limited to this application; for example, 3131-130 NURSE, GENERAL DUTY (medical) is not a general title. General titles have an industry designation and a code number, and are given the same occupational characteristics coding as CCDO titles. When a general title is used in conjunction with a series of CCDO definitions, the definitions of each of these titles includes a reference, immediately following the lead statement, to the duties as described in the general title definition; for example, refer to 2143-122 AIRPORT ENGINEER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.) in CCDO Volume I.

SPECIAL OCCUPATIONAL CATEGORIES

For a number of reasons, it proved advantageous to give particular treatment in the classification structure to certain groups of occupations:

1. Managerial Occupations
 2. Supervisors and Foremen/women Occupations
 3. Technologist and Technician Occupations
 4. Inspecting, Testing, Grading and Sampling Occupations, and Regulatory Occupations
 5. Labourer/Elemental Worker Occupations
 6. Other Special Occupational Categories
1. Managerial Occupations Managerial occupations have been given special consideration largely because of the ambiguous nature of the title "manager", a term which can be applied to occupations with duties so dissimilar in nature as to have little meaning within the context of the CCDO. For example, the "manager" of a little corner store has little occupational activity common to the "manager" of a nationwide chain of stores. Moreover, the use of such titles as "general manager", "superintendent", and "director" further complicates the distinct identification of managerial occupations. For this reason, managerial occupations will usually fall into one of four broad categories:
 - (a) General Managers
 - (b) Departmental and Related Managers
 - (c) Supervisors and Foremen/women
 - (d) Managers of Wholesale, Retail and Service Establishments
 - (a) The General Managers represent senior management, and are responsible for planning, organizing, staffing, directing and controlling the functions of an organization. Since they make policy and co-ordinate the activities of various departments, they are, in essence, the managers' manager.
 - (b) Departmental and Related Managers The managers of a department, a regional office, or a project are representative of middle management. They report to and receive their instructions from the general manager, and will usually administer their operations through subordinate managers or supervisors. Managers at the departmental level are usually involved in activities related to a number of Major and Minor Groups of occupations. Therefore, a special Major Group was created for the classification of these managerial occupations. Within this Major Group (Major Group 11), managerial occupations which are unique to government are separated from other managerial occupations. It was also necessary to provide for the classification of occupations which are directly related to management. Thus, this Major Group has three Minor Groups:

111 OFFICIALS AND ADMINISTRATORS UNIQUE TO GOVERNMENT

113/114 OTHER MANAGERS AND ADMINISTRATORS

117 OCCUPATIONS RELATED TO MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

- (c) Supervisors and Foremen/women In large organizations, neither the general manager nor the departmental managers directly supervise the activities of workers. This is normally the responsibility of the supervisors or foremen/women, who represent the first level of line management. Occupations which are identified as foremen/women and supervisory occupations, including managing supervisors, are normally classified in special Unit Groups in the same Minor Groups as the workers whom they supervise. These special Unit Groups can be identified by four-digit code numbers ending in "0".
- (d) Managers of Wholesale, Retail and Service Establishments which are not departmentalized normally perform duties similar to those of supervisors; however, they have important additional responsibilities in such areas as planning and financing. These occupations are designated as MANAGING SUPERVISORS, and are classified with supervisors (in the appropriate Unit Groups) of Major Groups 51 - SALES OCCUPATIONS and 61 - SERVICE OCCUPATIONS. The expression "managing supervisor" is used to refer to occupations which are not managerial in the sense described in the definition for the Master Title 01-170 MANAGER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.), but which have duties and responsibilities that include those of a supervisor and, to a limited extent, those of a manager.

There are three exceptions to the classification of managers of wholesale, retail and service establishments:

- (i) Managers of chains of wholesale, retail and service establishments, whose activities extend to all establishments in the chain, are regarded as GENERAL MANAGERS, and are classified in Unit Group 1130 - GENERAL MANAGERS AND OTHER SENIOR OFFICIALS.
- (ii) Managers of large departmentalized wholesale, retail and service establishments belonging to a chain are classified as MANAGERS in Unit Group 1137 - SALES AND ADVERTISING MANAGEMENT OCCUPATIONS, and in Unit Group 1142 - SERVICE MANAGEMENT OCCUPATIONS. These managers implement policy determined by head-office management.

- (iii) Managers of large departmentalized wholesale, retail and service establishments which do not belong to a chain are classified as MANAGERS in Unit Group 1130 — GENERAL MANAGERS AND OTHER SENIOR OFFICIALS. Such managers lack direction from a headquarters office, and so are responsible for their own policy-making and implementation.

To further facilitate the identification and classification of managerial occupations, reference is frequently made in the appropriate Unit Group definitions to the following Master Titles and definitions:

01-090 GENERAL MANAGER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)

01-170 MANAGER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)

01-180 MANAGING SUPERVISOR (any ind.)*

01-250 SUPERVISOR; FOREMAN/WOMAN (any ind.)

*The last paragraph of this definition introduces the Term Title, 02-450 WORKING PROPRIETOR (any ind.). This title reflects an economic status, rather than work performed, so that working proprietors are treated as managing supervisors, managers, or general managers according to work functions, and are classified in their appropriate Unit Groups.

Similarly, tradesmen/women and professionals who, in addition to their regular duties also perform some managerial functions, are classified according to their primary functional duties: thus barbers in charge of their shops are classified as barbers.

2. Supervisors and Foremen/women Occupations A clear distinction is made in the CCDO, on the basis of work performed, between supervisors and the workers whom they supervise. The title FOREMAN/WOMAN is used when the workers, whose activities are supervised and coordinated, work in occupations concerned with processing, manufacturing, construction and primary industries. The title SUPERVISOR is used to denote the supervisory occupations in all other occupational groups.

By referring to Unit Group 8780 — FOREMEN/WOMEN, OTHER CONSTRUCTION TRADES OCCUPATIONS, several significant aspects of the classification of supervisors and foremen/women can be noted:

- (a) In this Unit Group definition, as in most others relating to supervisors and foremen/women occupations, reference is frequently made to the Master Title and definition 01-250 SUPERVISOR; FOREMAN/WOMAN (any ind.). This definition describes significant duties involving administrative supervision and responsibilities common to the occupations within the group.
- (b) In most cases, a special Unit Group will be assigned to supervisor and foreman/woman occupations, with a code number ending in the digit "0".
- (c) Each supervisor and foreman/woman occupation is assigned the usual seven-digit CCDO code number and the appropriate industry designation. However, since most supervisor and foreman/woman titles and definitions relate to a variety of occupations within a given Unit Group, they are not assigned occupational characteristics data or qualifications profile ratings. Because supervisors and foremen/women are usually engaged in administrative supervision, and do not normally perform any of the duties of the workers under their supervision, they are typically given a DPT designation of 138 (corresponding to Co-ordinating, Supervising, No Significant Relationship).

- (d) Professionals who perform supervisory functions in addition to their regular duties are classified according to their primary functional duties.

3. Technologist and Technician Occupations The tremendous technological developments of recent years have created an increased demand not only for scientists and engineers, but also for qualified scientific and engineering support staff. The titles of "technologist" and "technician" have come to be applied to many of these support occupations, but with little standardization in the definition and use of the terms. Typically, technologists and technicians perform duties primarily related to the following activities:

| Technologists | Technicians |
|----------------------|---------------------------|
| Research | Installation |
| Development | Operation and Maintenance |
| Design | Quality Control |
| Testing and Analysis | Production Planning |
| | Testing and Analysis |

Normally, the scientist, engineer or manager is responsible for and qualified in the highest functional levels of these work activities. The technologist and the technician act in support capacities, with the technologist performing more complex duties than the technician.

Technologists usually receive their basic training in post-secondary institutes or colleges, with further specialized on-the-job training required to achieve full occupational competency. Technicians may also receive their basic training in schools or colleges, but some attain full competency by being trained on the job, following the completion of high school. This will obviously affect their GED and SVP ratings, but a GED/SVP rating of 5/7 is typical of a technologist, and a 4/6 rating of a technician. Technologists and technicians generally have a significant relationship to the Data functions of Synthesizing (0), Co-ordinating (1), Analyzing (2), and Compiling (3), and the Things functions of Setting-Up (0), Precision Working (1), and Operating-Controlling (2). The relationship to the People function is usually incidental as, for instance, when the technologist or technician has some supervisory responsibility. Individual variations in occupational characteristics and qualification profiles will, of course, frequently occur.

Term Titles and definitions are provided, and these give a general description of the type of work performed, and indicate the classification treatment for technologists and technicians. In addition, six Master Titles and definitions have been prepared to assist in describing more specific technologist and technician occupations.

Seven specific Unit Groups have been provided in the classification structure to accommodate many of the technologist and technician occupations. Those who cannot be properly classified in one of these groups are classified in the most appropriate Unit Groups elsewhere in the classification. For example, technologists who are mainly concerned with supervision, instruction or sales are classified as supervisors, instructors or salespersons, respectively.

4. Inspecting, Testing, Grading and Sampling Occupations

Occupations which are primarily concerned with quality control activities in such areas of industry as the processing of raw materials, and the fabrication, assembly and repair of products are commonly called "inspectors", "testers", "graders" or "samplers". Occupations of this type are classified in special Unit Groups within the appropriate Minor Groups, and references to the applicable Term Titles are made in the Unit Group definitions:

02-150 GRADER (any ind.)

02-170 INSPECTOR (any ind.)

02-330 SAMPLER (any ind.)

02-430 TESTER (any ind.)

Most Unit Groups for inspectors, testers, graders and samplers can be identified by a four-digit code number ending in "6", although there are certain exceptions: Unit Groups 1136, 3156, 6116 and 8786 have been used to designate groups other than those relating to inspectors, testers, graders or samplers. If a Minor Group does not provide a special Unit Group for inspectors, testers, graders or samplers, they will then be classified in the Residual Unit Group of the Minor Group, as in 6169-166 CHECKER (laund., clean. & press.).

Regulatory Occupations Two special groups are provided for the classification of regulatory occupations:

Regulatory officers and inspectors concerned with enforcing and advising on governmental regulations pertaining to health, safety or other areas of governmental administration are classified in Unit Group 1116 — INSPECTORS AND REGULATORY OFFICERS, GOVERNMENT.

Inspectors and regulatory officers concerned with enforcing and advising on adherence to non-governmental standards and regulations in such areas as quality of service, and observance of company policies and procedures in branch organizations are classified in Unit Group 1176 — INSPECTORS AND REGULATORY OFFICERS, NON-GOVERNMENT.

5. Labourer/Elemental Worker Occupations The title LABOURER is used to classify occupations which require the application of common-sense understanding to carry out simple one- or two-step instructions, with little or no training needed for satisfactory work performance. The title ELEMENTAL WORKER may be used for similar occupations which are not, according to custom, referred to as "labourers".

Examine the definition for the Term Title 02-190 LABOURER/ELEMENTAL WORKER (any ind.), which describes duties common to labourers and elemental workers. It can be accurately inferred from this definition that the typical training time designations for occupations of this type are GED: 1 SVP: 1 or 2, although there are a few such occupations with a GED rating of 2. The majority of labourer and elemental worker occupations consist of tasks which are normally elementary or physical in nature. Consequently, the relevant worker functions, and their numerical equivalents are:

| DATA | PEOPLE | THINGS |
|---------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| Copying (5) | Speaking- Signaling (6) | Feeding- Offbearing (6) |
| Comparing (6) | Serving (7) | Handling (7) |

| DATA | PEOPLE | THINGS |
|------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------|
| No Significant Relationship (8) | No Significant Relationship (8) | Handling (7) |

Labourer and elemental worker occupations are classified in special Unit Groups within the Minor Group in which they would logically be found. The Unit Group is identified by a four-digit code number ending in "8", and the Unit Group definition will refer to the Term Title, 02-190 LABOURER/ELEMENTAL WORKER (any ind.). If the logical Minor Group does not provide a special Unit Group for labourers and elemental workers, they are then classified in Unit Group 9918 — OCCUPATIONS IN LABOURING AND OTHER ELEMENTAL WORK, N.E.C.

6. Other Special Occupational Categories have also been given special treatment in the CCDO classification structure:

- (a) Apprentices
- (b) Helpers
- (c) Assistants
- (d) Cadets
- (e) Machinery Set-Up Occupations
- (f) Oiling and Greasing Occupations
- (g) Armed Forces Personnel
- (h) Nurses-in-Training

A thorough knowledge of Term Titles and definitions is essential to the understanding of these special occupational categories.

- (a) Apprentices An apprentice is a learner of an occupation who performs some of the journeyman's/woman's duties. The nature and scope of the duties which apprentices may perform will vary according to the level of training they have reached. Apprentices are classified in the same Unit Group as the journeyman/woman for the occupation in which they are being trained, and usually immediately follow the journeyman/woman in the classification structure. Only reference definitions are provided for apprentices but they are assigned their own occupational code number. The Term Title and definition for 02-010 APPRENTICE (any ind.) further clarifies the nature of this occupation's classification.
- (b) Helpers Helpers normally work in manufacturing, processing, construction and primary industries in support of more highly qualified workers. They typically perform duties involving a variety of manual functions, and they are clearly subordinate to and under the direction of the worker assisted. Helpers are classified in the appropriate Unit Group according to the kind of work performed. However, if they meet the training time requirements for labourers and elemental workers, then helper occupations are classified in the Unit Group for labourers and elemental workers appropriate to the type of work involved. The Term Title and definition for 02-160 HELPER (any ind.) supplies useful supplementary information.
- (c) Assistants The term "Assistant" has a distinctive meaning in the CCDO. It is applied only to workers who assist others at the professional and managerial level. Assistants perform essentially Data and People related functions, and are clearly subordinate to the worker assisted. Assistants frequently require formal training in the specialization; for example, 3139-110 SURGICAL ASSISTANT (medical). The definition for the Term Title 02-040 ASSISTANT (any ind.) further clarifies the distinction between assistants and helpers.

- (d) Cadets Cadets are classified in the same Unit Group as are fully-qualified workers in the occupation for which they are being trained. For example, 6112-170 POLICE CADET (gov. serv.) is classified in Unit Group 6112 – POLICE OFFICERS AND DETECTIVES, GOVERNMENT.
- (e) Machinery Set-Up Occupations Machinery set-up men and women are classified in the same Unit Group as the operators or tenders of the machines. If the duties of an occupation require both the setting-up and the repair of machines, the occupation is classified according to the predominant aspect of the work. Examining Unit Group 8584 – INDUSTRIAL, FARM AND CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY MECHANICS AND REPAIRERS will illustrate this, for the Unit Group contains occupations concerned with both the repair and the set-up of machinery.

LOCATING OCCUPATIONS IN THE CCDO

To locate a specific occupation in the CCDO, there are two routes of access available. These can be used either singly or together, depending on the circumstances.

1. Locating Occupations Using the Alphabetical Indices of Occupational Titles Use of this method requires the application of four logical steps:

- (a) From the occupational information at hand, identify the most significant factors, and select the most probable title under which the occupation may be listed.
- (b) Search either the CCDO Index in this GUIDE or the Index to the appropriate Major Group book, and note the CCDO occupational code number to the title selected.
- (c) Use the occupational code number to locate the corresponding occupational description.
- (d) Compare your information with that of the occupational description to assess the nature of the work performed. Confirm your selection.

If the appropriate occupational description cannot be identified through the first title selected, repeat the process using Additional Titles by which the occupation may be known. These may adopt complete or partial inversion. For example, the CCDO Title for a person who applies hot asphalt to roofs is a ROOFER, ASPHALT. The key word, ROOFER, is common to several occupations, and has been placed first, followed by its modifier, ASPHALT. In this way, a mere glance at the Index shows that the CCDO differentiates between ROOFERS according to the type of material used (metal, shingles, wood, tar and gravel). An Additional Title may also be in the form of a synonym for the CCDO Title. For example, a “fastener” might be classified as a cementer, gluer, nailer, riveter or stapler, depending on the material used or the method of fastening employed.

If you experience difficulty at first in locating a specific occupation, remember that occupational titles and duties will not always conform exactly to your individual perception of the nature of the occupation. You may be

- (f) Oiling and Greasing Occupations Occupations which are primarily concerned with oiling and greasing machinery and other equipment are classified in Unit Group 8589 – MECHANICS AND REPAIRERS, EXCEPT ELECTRICAL, N.E.C., except when the work performed is at the level of labouring or elemental work. In this case, the occupation is classified in Unit Group 9918 – OCCUPATIONS IN LABOURING AND OTHER ELEMENTAL WORK, N.E.C.
- (g) Armed Forces Personnel Armed Forces Personnel are classified in two Unit Groups: 6116 – COMMISSIONED OFFICERS, ARMED FORCES, and 6117 – OTHER RANKS, ARMED FORCES. The classification of these occupations is provided for Census use, which excludes the need for seven-digit occupational code numbers, CCDO Titles, and occupational descriptions.
- (h) Nurses-in-Training Student nurses, who are being paid while in training in nursing schools, are classified in Unit Group 3133 – NURSES-IN-TRAINING. This Unit Group is also provided specifically for Census use, and individual CCDO Titles and definitions have not been assigned.

exaggerating or minimizing the level, duties or scope of a particular occupation, and what you view as a “repairer” might be classified as a repairer’s helper, an adjuster, a mechanic or a technician, depending on the type of equipment serviced, and how complex that servicing is.

2. Locating Occupations Using the Major, Minor and Unit Group Code Numbers and Definitions This second route of access to a specific occupation is convenient when not enough occupational information is available to initially select a probable occupational title. The process uses the breakdown of Major, Minor and Unit Group titles and definitions which precede the occupational descriptions in the CCDO. A similar listing is provided in this GUIDE, as well as in each Major Group book for the applicable Groups. Six steps are required:

- (a) Identify the significant job factors.
- (b) Select the most appropriate Major Group (title, then definition).
- (c) Select the most appropriate Minor Group (title, then definition).
- (d) Select the most appropriate Unit Group (title, then definition).
- (e) Select the most appropriate occupational title from the Unit Group selected.
- (f) Compare your information with that of the occupational description to assess the nature of the work performed. Confirm your selection.

Group definitions will prove to be an invaluable aid in locating occupations by this method. Their use will not only save time, but may occasionally refer to the specific occupation you are seeking. Group definitions also make reference to Master and Term Titles and definitions, and these may further help to locate the occupation matching the significant activities which you have identified.

Your success in locating occupations by either of these methods is determined largely by your ability to identify the significant aspects of an occupation: remember that an occupational description normally describes only those activities which are common to a number of individual jobs. A thorough knowledge of the criteria used to classify occupations will also help a great deal in their location.

General Education Development (GED)

The following is a table explaining the various levels of general educational development:

| Level | Reasoning Development | Mathematical Development | Language Development |
|-------|--|---|--|
| 6 | Apply principles of logical or scientific thinking to a wide range of intellectual and practical problems. Deal with non-verbal symbolism (formulas, scientific equations, graphs, musical notes, etc.) in its most difficult phases. Deal with a variety of abstract and concrete variables. Apprehend the most abstruse classes of concepts. | Apply knowledge of advanced mathematical and statistical techniques such as differential and integral calculus, factor analysis, and probability determination, or work with a wide variety of theoretical mathematical concepts and make original applications of mathematical procedures, as in empirical and differential equations. | Comprehension and expression of a level to -Report, write, or edit articles for such publications as newspapers, magazines, and technical or scientific journals. Prepare and draw up deeds, leases, wills, mortgages, and contracts. -Prepare and deliver lectures on politics, economics, education, or science. -Interview, counsel, or advise such people as students, clients, or patients, in such matters as welfare eligibility, vocational rehabilitation, mental hygiene or marital relations. -Evaluate engineering technical data to design buildings and bridges. |
| 5 | Apply principles of logical or scientific thinking to define problems, collect data, establish facts, and draw valid conclusions. Interpret an extensive variety of technical instructions, in books, manuals, and mathematical or diagrammatic form. Deal with several abstract and concrete variables. | | |
| 4 | Apply principles of rational systems to solve practical problems and deal with a variety of concrete variables in situations where only limited standardization exists. Examples of "principles of rational systems" are: Bookkeeping, internal combustion engines, electric wiring systems, house building, nursing, farm management, ship sailing. Interpret a variety of instructions furnished in written, oral, diagrammatic, or schedule form. | Perform ordinary arithmetic, algebraic, and geometric procedures in standard, practical applications. | Comprehension and expression of a level to -Transcribe dictation, make appointments for executive and handle their personal mail, interview and screen people wishing to speak to them, and write routine correspondence on own initiative. -Interview job applicants to determine work best suited for their abilities and experience, and contact employers to interest them in services of agency. -Interpret technical manuals as well as drawings and specifications, such as layouts, blueprints, and schematics. |
| 3 | Apply common sense understanding to carry out instructions furnished in written, oral, or diagrammatic form. Deal with problems involving several concrete variables in or from standardized situations. | Make arithmetic calculations involving fractions, decimals and percentages. | Comprehension and expression of a level to -File, post, and mail such material as forms, cheques, receipts, and bills. -Copy data from one record to another, fill in report forms, and type all work from rough draft or corrected copy. -Interview members of household to obtain such information as age, occupation, and number of children, to be used as data for surveys, or economic studies. -Guide people on tours through historical or public buildings, describing such features as size, value, and points of interest. |
| 2 | Apply common sense understanding to carry out detailed but uninvolved written or oral instructions. Deal with problems involving a few concrete variables in or from standardized situations. | Use arithmetic to add, subtract, multiply, and divide whole numbers. | |
| 1 | Apply common sense understanding to carry out simple one- or two-step instructions. Deal with standardized situations with occasional or no variables in or from these situations encountered on the job. | Perform simple addition and subtraction, reading and copying of figures, or counting and recording. | Comprehension and expression of a level to -Learn job duties from oral instructions or demonstration. -Write identifying information, such as name and address of customer, weight, number, or type of product, on tags, or slips. -Request orally, or in writing, such supplies as linen, soap, or work materials. |

APPENDIX B

Specific Vocational Preparation (SVP)

Specific vocational preparation includes training given in any of the following forms:

a. University or College Training:

Training given by a degree granting institution and for which a degree, diploma, or certificate is issued. The average four-year university or college curriculum (except for liberal arts which is not vocationally oriented) is considered as equivalent to about two years of specific vocational preparation. Each year of university graduate schooling is regarded as one year of specific vocational preparation.

b. Vocational Training:

Training given by a vocational school or a non-degree granting college intended to develop general or specific skills, such as commercial, shop, or art training. In evaluating vocational training of this nature, thirty hours of such schooling is regarded as about fifteen hours of specific vocational preparation.

c. Apprenticeship:

Training given for an apprenticeable occupation.

d. In-Plant Training:

Training given or sponsored by an employer either on or off his own premises, intended as preparation for a specific job in his plant.

e. On-The-Job Training:

Any training acquired while serving as a learner or trainee on the job under instruction of a qualified worker, and intended as preparation for a specific job.

f. Experience in Other Jobs:

Experience acquired while serving in less responsible jobs, or serving in other jobs, which prepares a worker for a specific job at a higher grade.

ESTIMATING THE LEVEL OF SPECIFIC VOCATIONAL PREPARATION

The following is an explanation of the various levels of specific vocational preparation:

| Level | Time | Level | Time |
|-------|--|-------|--|
| 1 | Short demonstration only. | 5 | Over 6 months up to and including 1 year. |
| 2 | Anything beyond short demonstration up to and including 30 days. | 6 | Over 1 year up to and including 2 years. |
| 3 | Over 30 days up to and including 3 months. | 7 | Over 2 years up to and including 4 years. |
| 4 | Over 3 months up to and including 6 months. | 8 | Over 4 years up to and including 10 years. |
| | | 9 | Over 10 years. |

APPENDIX C

Environmental Conditions (EC)

Environmental Conditions are defined as the physical surroundings of a worker in a specific occupation.

1. Work Location (inside, outside, or both): This factor appears as an initial (I, O, or B) on an occupational description.

Inside (I): Protection from weather conditions but not necessarily from temperature changes. An occupation is considered "inside" if the workers spend approximately 75 per cent or more of their time inside.

Outside (O): No effective protection from weather. An occupation is considered "outside" if the workers spend approximately 75 per cent or more of their time outside.

Both (B): Inside and outside. An occupation is considered "both" if the workers' activities occur inside and outside in approximately equal amounts.

2. Extremes of Cold Plus Temperature Changes:

- a. Extremes of Cold: Temperature sufficiently low to cause marked bodily discomfort unless the worker is provided with exceptional protection.
- b. Temperature Changes: Variations in temperature which are sufficiently marked and abrupt to cause noticeable bodily reactions.

3. Extremes of Heat Plus Temperature Changes:

- a. Extremes of Heat: Temperature sufficiently high to cause marked bodily discomfort unless the worker is provided with exceptional protection.
- b. Temperature Changes: Same as 2.b.

Note: Occupations are not rated for EC: 2 (Extremes of Cold) or EC: 3 (Extremes of Heat) on the basis of atmospheric conditions alone. It is taken for granted that in a country with our climate, workers will occasionally be subjected to extremes of both cold and heat.

4. Wet and/or Humid: Contact with water or other liquids, and/or atmospheric conditions with moisture content sufficiently high to cause marked bodily discomfort.
5. Noise and/or Vibration: Sufficient noise, either constant or intermittent, to cause marked distraction or possible injury to the sense of hearing.
6. Hazards: Situations in which the individual is exposed to the definite risk of bodily injury.
7. Atmospheric Conditions: Fumes, odours, toxic conditions, dust, and poor ventilation.

Fumes: Smoky or vaporous exhalations, usually odorous, thrown off as the result of combustion or chemical reaction.

Odours: Noxious smells, either toxic or non-toxic.

Toxic Conditions: Exposure to toxic dust, fumes, gases, vapours, mists, or liquids which cause general or localized disabling conditions as a result of inhalation or action on the skin.

Dust: Air filled with small particles of any kind, such as textile dust, flour, wood, leather or feathers, and inorganic dust including silica and asbestos, which make the workplace unpleasant or are the source of occupational diseases.

APPENDIX D

Physical Activities (PA)

Physical Activities express both the physical requirements of the occupation and the physical capacities a worker must have to meet these requirements. The presence or absence of Physical Activities Factors in a CCDO occupational definition is not to be misconstrued as indicating that the physically handicapped can or cannot perform the duties of that occupation.

- 1 - Strength (Sedentary, Light, Medium, Heavy, Very Heavy Work): This factor appears as an initial (S, L, M, H, or VH) in an occupational description.

Sedentary Work (S): Lifting 10 lbs. maximum and occasionally lifting and/or carrying such articles as docket, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary occupation is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out some duties. Occupations are sedentary if walking and standing are required only occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met.

Light Work (L): Lifting 20 lbs. maximum with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing up to 10 lbs. Even though the weight lifted may be only a negligible amount, an occupation is in this category (a) when it requires walking or standing to a significant degree, or (b) when it involves sitting most of the time with a degree of pushing and pulling of arm and/or leg controls.

Medium Work (M): Lifting 50 lbs. maximum with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing up to 20 lbs. Consideration of (b) under "light work" may apply here.

Heavy Work (H): Lifting 100 lbs. maximum with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 lbs.

Very Heavy Work (VH): Lifting objects in excess of 100 lbs. with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing 50 lbs. or more.

Note: The descriptions given for the five degrees of Factor 1 make reference to the terms "Lifting, Carrying, Pushing, and Pulling". These four terms are the primary "strength" physical requirements, and generally speaking, a worker who is engaged in one of these activities can be engaged in all. These activities can be defined as follows:

Lifting: Raising or lowering an object from one level to another (includes upward pulling).

Carrying: Transporting an object, usually holding it in the hands or arms or on the shoulder.

Pushing: Exerting force upon an object so that the object moves away from the force (includes slapping, striking, kicking, and treadle actions).

Pulling: Exerting force upon an object so that the object moves toward the force (includes jerking).

- 2 - Climbing and/or Balancing: For climbing, the emphasis is placed upon body agility; for balancing, it is placed upon body equilibrium.

Climbing: Ascending or descending ladders, stairs, scaffolding, ramps, poles, ropes, and the like, using the feet and legs and/or hands and arms.

Balancing: Maintaining body equilibrium to prevent falling when walking, standing, crouching, or running on narrow, slippery, or erratically moving surfaces; or maintaining body equilibrium when performing gymnastic feats.

- 3 - Body Dexterity: The skill and ease in using body members.

Stooping: Bending the body downward and forward by bending the spine at the waist.

Kneeling: Bending the legs at the knees to come to rest on the knee or knees.

Crouching: Bending the body downward and forward by bending the legs and spine.

Crawling: Moving about on the hands and knees or hands and feet.

- 4 - Reaching, Handling, Fingering, and/or Feeling: These activities involve the use of one or both the upper extremities.

Reaching Above Shoulder: Extending the hands and arms in any direction above the shoulder.

Reaching Below Shoulder: Extending the hands and arms in any direction below the shoulder.

Handling: Seizing, holding, grasping, turning, or otherwise working with the hand or hands (fingering not involved).

Fingering: Picking, pinching, or otherwise working primarily with the fingers (rather than with the whole hand or arm as in handling).

Feeling: Perceiving such attributes or objects and materials as size, shape, temperature, or texture, by means of receptors in the skin, particularly those of the finger-tips.

- 5 - Talking: Expressing or exchanging ideas by means of the spoken word. Talking is important for those activities in which the individual must impart oral information to clients or to the public, and in those activities in which he must convey detailed or important instructions to other employees accurately, loudly, or quickly.

- 6 - Hearing: Perceiving the nature of sounds by the ear. Hearing is important for those activities which require the ability to receive detailed information through oral communication, or to make fine discriminations in sound.

- 7 - Seeing: Obtaining impressions through the eyes of the shape, size, distance, motion, colour, or other characteristics of objects. For CCDO purposes Normal Vision is assumed. An occupation is rated for PA: 7 (seeing) only when there is a significant requirement for one or more of the following component factors:

Acuity, Far: Clarity of vision at 20 feet or more.

Acuity, Near: Clarity of vision at 20 inches or less.

Depth Perception: Three-dimensional vision. The ability to judge distance and space relationships so as to see objects where and as they actually are.

Accommodation: Adjustment of the lens of the eye to bring an object into focus. This component factor is especially important when doing near-point work at varying distances from the eye.

Colour Vision: The ability to identify and distinguish colours.

Field of Vision: The area that can be seen up and down, or to the right or left, while the eyes are fixed on a given point.

- 8 - Controls: Operating machinery requiring the use of body members and eye-hand-foot coordination.

Hand-Arm: Controlling the operation of machinery using only hand(s) and arms(s).

Foot-Leg: Controlling the operation of machinery using only the leg(s) and one or both feet.

Eye-Hand-Foot Coordination: Controlling the operation of machinery requiring the coordination of movement of the hand and foot with each other in accordance with visual stimuli.

APPENDIX E

Worker Functions in Relation to Data, People and Things (DPT)

The various kinds of functions are identified and defined on the following pages. They appear in three groups arranged in each instance from the relatively simple to the more complex at the top in such a manner that each successive function attempts to include those that are simpler and exclude the more complex. As each of the functions listed in the following table may represent a range of complexity, and because of the limited number of functions in each group, their arrangement should not be considered as precisely hierarchical. For these reasons, the CCDO exercises caution in their use as verb forms in occupational descriptions.

The three broad categories of functional relationships to Data, People, and Things are as follows:

| DATA (1st digit) | PEOPLE (2nd digit) | THINGS (3rd digit) |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 0 Synthesizing | 0 Mentoring | 0 Setting-Up |
| 1 Co-ordinating | 1 Negotiating | 1 Precision Working |
| 2 Analyzing | 2 Instructing | 2 Operating-Controlling |
| 3 Compiling | 3 Supervising | 3 Driving-Operating |
| 4 Computing | 4 Diverting | 4 Manipulating-Operating |
| 5 Copying | 5 Persuading | 5 Tending |
| 6 Comparing | 6 Speaking-Signaling | 6 Feeding-Offbearing |
| 7 * | 7 Serving | 7 Handling |
| 8 No Significant Relationship | 8 No Significant Relationship | 8 No Significant Relationship |

DATA: Information, knowledge, and conceptions related to Data, People and Things, obtained by observation, investigation, interpretation, visualization and mental creation; incapable of being touched. Written data take the form of numbers, words and symbols; other data are ideas, concepts and oral verbalization.

0 Synthesizing: Integrating analyses of data to discover facts and/or develop knowledge, concepts or interpretations.

1 Co-ordinating: Determining time, place, and sequence of operations or action to be taken on the basis of analysis of data; executing determinations and/or reporting on events.

2 Analyzing: Examining and evaluating data. Presenting alternative action in relation to the evaluation is frequently involved.

3 Compiling: Accumulating information which is usually recorded physically, but which may be stored mentally; gathering, collating, or classifying information about Data, People and Things. Reporting and/or carrying out a prescribed action in relation to the information is frequently involved.

4 Computing: Performing arithmetic operations and reporting on and/or carrying out prescribed action in relation to them. Does not include counting.

5 Copying: Transcribing, entering, or posting data.

6 Comparing: Understanding the readily observable functional, structural, or compositional characteristics (whether similar to or divergent from obvious standards) of Data, People, and Things.

* The functional digit 7 is not used in the Data Table in the CCDO.

8 No Significant Relationship.

PEOPLE: Human beings; also includes animals dealt with on an individual basis.

0 Mentoring: Dealing with individuals in terms of their total personality in order to advise, counsel and/or guide them with regard to problems that may be resolved by legal, scientific, clinical, spiritual and/or other professional principles.

1 Negotiating: Exchanging ideas, information and opinions with others to formulate policies and programs and/or arrive jointly at decisions, conclusions or solutions.

2 Instructing: Teaching subject matter to others or training others (including animals) through explanation, demonstration and supervised practice; or making recommendations on the basis of technical disciplines.

3 Supervising: Determining or interpreting work procedures for a group of workers, assigning specific duties to them, maintaining harmonious relations among them and promoting efficiency.

4 Diverting: Entertaining others.

5 Persuading: Influencing others in favour of a product, service, or point of view.

6 Speaking-Signaling: Talking with and/or signaling people to convey or exchange information. Includes giving assignments and/or directions to helpers or assistants, but excludes ordinary conversation.

7 Serving: Attending to the needs or requests of people or animals, or the expressed or implicit wishes of people. Immediate response is involved.

8 No Significant Relationship.

THINGS: Inanimate objects as distinguished from human beings; substances or materials; machines, tools, or equipment; products. A thing is tangible and has shape, form, and other physical characteristics.

0 Setting Up: Adjusting machines or equipment by replacing or altering tools, jigs, fixtures and attachments to prepare them to perform their functions, change their performance, or restore their proper functioning if they break down. Workers who set up one or a number of machines for other workers or who set up and personally operate a variety of machines are included here.

1 Precision Working: Using body members and/or tools or work aids to work, move, guide or place objects or materials in situations where ultimate responsibility for the attainment of standards occurs and selection of appropriate tools, objects, or materials, and the adjustment of the tool to the task require exercise of considerable judgment.

2 Operating-Controlling: Starting, stopping, controlling and adjusting the progress of machines or equipment designed to fabricate and/or process objects or materials. Operating machines involves setting up the machine and adjusting the machine or material as the work progresses. Controlling equipment involves observing gauges, dials and other indicators, and turning valves and other devices to control such factors as temperature, pressure, flow of liquids, speed of pumps, and reactions of materials. Set-up involves several variables and adjustment is more frequent than in tending.

3 Driving-Operating: Starting, stopping and controlling the actions of machines or equipment for which a course must be steered or which must be guided, in order to fabricate, process, and/or move things or people. Involves such activities as observing gauges and dials; estimating distances and determining speed and direction of other objects; turning cranks and wheels; pushing clutches or brakes; and pushing or pulling gear shifts or levers. Includes such machines as cranes, conveyor systems, tractors, furnace-charging machines, paying machines and hoisting machines. Excludes manually-powered machines, such as handtrucks and dollies, and power-assisted machines, such as electric wheelbarrows and handtrucks.

4 Manipulating-Operating: Using body members, tools, or special devices to work, move, guide, or place objects or materials requiring the use of hand tools or special devices. Requires a significant combination of eye-hand co-ordination, and manual and finger dexterity. Involves some latitude for judgment with regard to precision attained and selection of appropriate tool, object or material, although this is readily manifest.

5 Tending: Starting, stopping, and observing the functioning of machines and equipment. Involves adjusting materials or controls of the machine, such as changing guides, adjusting timers and temperature gauges, turning valves to allow flow of materials and flipping switches in response to lights. Little judgment is involved in making these adjustments.

6 Feeding-Offbearing: Inserting, throwing, dumping, or placing materials in or removing them from machines or equipment which are automatic or tended or operated by other workers.

7 Handling: Using body members, hand tools and/or special devices to work, move, or carry objects or materials. Involves little or no latitude for judgment with regard to attainment of standards or in selecting appropriate tool, object or material.

8 No Significant Relationship.

APPENDIX F

Aptitude Factors and Definitions

- G. Intelligence: General learning ability. The ability to “catch on” or understand instructions and underlying principles. Ability to reason and make judgements.
- V. Verbal: Ability to understand meanings of words and ideas associated with them, and to use them effectively. To comprehend language, to understand relationship between words and to understand meanings of whole sentences and paragraphs. To present information or ideas clearly.
- N. Numerical: Ability to carry out arithmetic processes quickly and accurately.
- S. Spatial: Ability to think, visually of geometric forms and to comprehend the two dimensional representation of three-dimensional objects. The ability to recognize the relationships resulting from the movement of objects, in space. May be used in such tasks as blueprint reading and in solving geometry problems. Frequently described as the ability to “visualize” objects of two or three dimensions, or to think visually of geometric forms.
- P. Form Perception: Ability to perceive pertinent detail in objects, or in pictorial or graphic material. To make visual comparisons and discriminations and see slight differences in shapes and shadings of figures and widths and lengths of lines.
- Q. Clerical Perception: Ability to perceive pertinent detail in verbal or tabular material. To observe differences in copy, to proofread words and numbers, and to avoid perceptual errors in arithmetic computation.
- K. Motor Coordination: Ability to coordinate eyes and hands or fingers rapidly and accurately in making precise movements with speed. Ability to make a movement response accurately and quickly.
- F. Finger Dexterity: Ability to move the fingers, and manipulate small objects with the fingers, rapidly or accurately.
- M. Manual Dexterity: Ability to move the hands easily and skillfully. To work with the hands in placing and turning motions.
- E. Eye-Hand-Foot Coordination: Ability to move the hand and foot coordinately with each other in accordance with visual stimuli. (Not measured by GATB).
- C. Colour Discrimination: Ability to perceive or recognize similarities or differences in colours, or in shades or other values of the same colour. To identify a particular colour, or to recognize harmonious or contrasting colour combinations, or to match colours accurately. (Not measured by GATB).

Interest Factors and Definitions

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1. Dealing with things and objects. | vs. 6. Dealing with people and communicating ideas. |
| 2. Business contact with people. | vs. 7. Scientific and technical work. |
| 3. Routine, concrete and organized work. | vs. 8. Abstract and creative work or experiences. |
| 4. Working for people for their presumed good as in the social welfare sense, or for dealing with people and language in social situations. | vs. 9. Non-social work, carried on in relation to processes, machines, and techniques. |
| 5. Work resulting in prestige or the esteem of others. | vs. 0. Work leading to satisfaction from tangible results. |

Temperament Factors and Definitions

1. A variety of duties often characterized by frequent change.
2. Repetitive or short-cycle operations carried out according to set procedures or sequences.

3. Doing things only under specific instructions, allowing little or no room for independent action or judgement in working out job problems.
4. The direction, control, and planning of an entire activity or the activities of others.
5. Dealing with people in actual job duties, beyond giving and receiving instructions.
6. Working alone and apart in physical isolation from others, although activity may be integrated with that of others.
7. Influencing people in their opinions, attitudes, or judgements about ideas or things.
8. Performing adequately under stress when confronted with the critical or unexpected or taking risks.
9. The evaluation (arriving at generalizations, judgements, or decisions) of information against sensory or judgemental criteria.
0. The evaluation (arriving at generalizations, judgements, or decisions) of information against measurable or verifiable criteria.
- X. The interpretation of feelings, ideas, or facts in terms of personal viewpoint.
- Y. The precise attainment of set limits, tolerances, or standards.

It must be remembered that none of the qualification profile factors (aptitudes, interests, temperaments) are absolute: they must not be regarded as cut-off points governing the acceptance or rejection of an individual as being a suitable candidate for a particular occupation.

NEW CCDO OCCUPATIONAL DESCRIPTIONS

Numerous users of the CCDO have requested that certain occupations be studied for inclusion in the classification structure. Most of the requests have come from Canada Employment Counsellors requiring assistance in coding these occupations for client placement. Based primarily on this need, it was felt that the following occupations best warranted immediate classification (the titles are here arranged in alphabetical order for ease of location, but the descriptions themselves are arranged in numerical order):

| 8581-192 | VINYL-ROOF INSTALLER (motor vehicle) |

Any information on new occupations which have emerged as a result of social, economic, technological or legislative forces is most welcome, and such contributions by all users of the CCDO are encouraged. (See Introduction to Index Section for procedure and address). Acknowledgement in the form of new CCDO occupational descriptions will result wherever possible, either during the revision of a Major Group, or in the next annual edition of the CCDO GUIDE.

NEW CCDO OCCUPATIONAL DESCRIPTIONS

1116-128 PROPERTY ASSESSOR (gov. serv.)

Assesses value of residential, commercial, industrial and farm property for taxation purposes:

Inspects properties within assigned area. Prepares or verifies records of class of building, construction materials, age, condition, interior fixtures, location, and other factors affecting property value. Measures and records dimensions of building and property, or examines plans to determine dimensions. Examines records of owners of commercial and industrial properties to determine financial factors affecting property valuation. Estimates replacement cost of property, depreciation allowance, selling price of similar properties, income capitalization of commercial and industrial properties, and reads manuals to assess taxable value of property. Defends assessment in court if assessment is appealed.

5172-111 MORTGAGE BROKER (insur. & real estate)

Applies to lenders or lending institutions for mortgages on behalf of clients:

Requests information about terms and conditions of mortgage loans. Questions client about income, liabilities and assets, and location, type, price and condition of property to be mortgaged. Examines surveyor's certificate and legal documents, and inspects property. Advises client on availability, conditions and terms of mortgages available. Prepares applications for mortgage. Negotiates mortgage with lender or officials of lending institutions, or arranges meeting between lender and client. Collects fee based on amount of mortgage.

2117-246 CHEMICAL TECHNICIAN, HEAVY WATER PLANT AND NUCLEAR-GENERATING STATION (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)

Carries out technical functions in chemistry in relation to operation, maintenance and quality-control activities of heavy water plant and nuclear-generating station:

Performs duties similar to those of 2117-248 CHEMICAL TECHNICIAN (prof. & tech., n.e.c.). Sets up sampling pumps. Collects samples of water and gas from nuclear-generating station and heavy water plant sampling areas. Analyzes water samples to determine corrosive qualities, to identify impurities, and to ensure quantitative control of additives during chemical treatment. Analyzes gas samples to determine corrosive qualities and explosive hazards. Interprets results of analyses, and recommends appropriate action to supervisor. Prepares standard laboratory solutions. Records quantity of laboratory supplies and equipment in stock. Trains subordinate personnel. Recalibrates meters and related equipment. Services laboratory and field equipment, and makes minor repairs. Carries out safety procedures related to detection and control of ionizing radiation and toxic gas levels.

2157-114 NUCLEAR-OPERATIONS ENGINEER (elec. power)

Directs operational and maintenance activities in nuclear-generating station, heavy water plant, and associated facilities, and supervises technical, maintenance and operational personnel:

Solves technical problems related to mechanical, chemical and electrical systems, computer systems, control systems, heavy water management, reactor-fuel scheduling, reactor-physics calculations, and chemical control associated with the operation and maintenance of nuclear-generating stations and heavy water plants. Prepares reports to provide information and data on equipment, systems, and performance of station and plant. Supervises and trains subordinate personnel. Supervises commissioning of new nuclear stations and heavy water plants, and major changes in design of existing stations and plants. Carries out safety procedures related to safe and efficient operation of nuclear-generating stations, heavy water plants and associated facilities.

8581-214 TIRE CHANGER (motor vehicle)

Changes motor vehicle tires:
Operates controls of hoist or uses jack to raise vehicle, and removes wheel from vehicle, using hand or power wrenches. Places wheel on tire-changing machine, and operates machine to remove tire from rim. Washes replacement tire, and spreads cement on wheel rim to ensure air-tight seal. Operates tire-changing machine to install tire on rim. Sets dial, and operates compressed-air hose to inflate tire to required pressure. Places wheel on static or dynamic balancing device, and observes gauges to detect imbalances. Clamps weights to wheel rim to balance wheel. Bolts wheel to vehicle. Repairs punctured inner tubes or tires, if required, using cement and patches or plugs.

8584-132 MECHANICAL MAINTAINER, NUCLEAR- GENERATING STATION AND HEAVY WATER PLANT (mech. equip., n.e.c.)

Repairs pumps, valves, traps, separators, piping, boilers, pressure vessels, heat exchangers, fans, blowers, compressors, turbines, diesels, generators and fuelling machines used in nuclear-generating stations, heavy water plants, and associated facilities:
Inspects equipment to detect internal faults. Dismantles equipment, using hand tools. Cleans equipment, and verifies dimensions of parts. Repairs, replaces, or fabricates parts, using portable power tools and machine tools. Prepares metal and welds to x-ray and other nondestructive testing standards. Measures pipe, using sketch pipe lay-outs, cuts external threads, makes up threaded joints, and services flow and control valves. Installs new pipelines, and identifies pipes and fittings. Performs rigging operations. Tests and adjusts equipment to ensure efficient operation. Trains subordinate personnel. Carries out safety procedures related to detection and control of ionizing radiation and toxic gas levels.

stationary farm equipment. Mixes and pours concrete into forms. Assembles pre-fabricated silo-unloaders, feed conveyors, gutter cleaners, manure stackers, blowers, and similar equipment, using hand and power tools and welding equipment. Installs electric motors, manure pumps, pipes and valves. Helps to install and connect electric wiring to motors, pumps and switches. Aligns moving parts, adjusts tension of conveyor belts, drive belts and chains, and lubricates equipment. Instructs customer in operation and maintenance of equipment. Repairs and services farm equipment.

Installs, tests, maintains and repairs instruments and control systems in nuclear-generating station, heavy water plant, and associated facilities:

Installs and modifies equipment. Tests and troubleshoots analogue and digital computers, and electronic, pneumatic and electrical measuring, controlling and protective devices, instruments and systems. Analyzes test results. Repairs and maintains equipment. Tests and maintains power generation and distribution equipment, systems and controls. Recommends changes to correct or improve efficiency and safety of equipment. Prepares records on operation of equipment, test results, calibrations and maintenance performed, faults detected, and spare parts used. Trains subordinate personnel. Carries out safety procedures related to detection and control of ionizing radiation and toxic gas levels. See also definition for term title, 02-410 TECHNICIAN (prof. & tech., n.e.c.).

8589-144 REPAIRER, SMALL ENGINES (mech. equip., n.e.c.)

Repairs small engines used in lawn mowers, chain saws, garden tractors, rotary tillers, snowmobiles and similar machines:

Reads work order to determine nature of complaint. Observes and listens to engine to determine fault. Tests engine with compression gauges and other devices. Dismantles engine, using hand tools. Cleans and examines engine parts. Replaces worn or defective parts, and assembles engine. Adjusts carburetors, chains, throttle linkages and other parts. Repairs manual starters, transmissions and other assemblies, and operates power tools to reface valves or to machine similar parts. Welds broken parts, sharpens blades, and performs related duties. Prepares reports of work performed, parts replaced, and cost of repairs.

8595-116 TRAFFIC-SIGN PAINTER (gov. serv.)

Paints letters and symbols on metal plates to produce traffic signs: Mixes paints and thinners to required colour and consistency, and paints metal sign blanks, using roller. Cuts letters, numerals and designs from reflective material, using stencils and cutting tools. Applies adhesive to reflective material, lays out letters on sign blank, and places blank in heat applicator to fix letters to blank. Draws or traces letters, numerals or symbols on profil stencil, and cuts out figures. Positions silk screen over profil stencil, and applies solvent to render areas of screen impermeable to paint. Positions silk screen over sign blank on printing table, and pours and rolls paint over silk screen to transfer design to sign blank. Cleans screen, using cloth and solvent. Draws and paints traffic signs free-hand, if required. Erects road signs, if required, using power auger, hoist and other equipment.

8595-200 VEHICLE CLEANER-COATER (motor vehicle)

Washes, waxes, and coats vehicles after they have been rustproofed: Sprays solvent over exterior of vehicle, and wipes vehicle with cloth to remove rustproofing overspray. Screws inside door panels into place, or pushes plugs into holes in door to seal doors after rustproofing. Screws window cranks into place. Washes body, roof and tire of vehicle. Waxes vehicle, using sprayer attachment, cloth or other applicator. Operates hand-held power polisher to polish vehicle between wax applications, or polishes vehicle with cloth. Sprays polished surface with plastic protective coating, and polishes dried coating. Washes and vacuums interior of vehicle. Cleans spots on upholstery and carpeting with spot remover, and sprays upholstery and carpeting with fabric protectors. Cleans and polishes trim, windows and mirrors. Fills sprayers, and cleans equipment and work area.

9531-144 FIELD OPERATOR, NUCLEAR-GENERATING STATION (elec. power)

Performs field duties to assist in operation of nuclear reactor, steam turbine, generator, and associated systems and equipment: Patrols work area, and monitors instruments, equipment and systems to ensure safe and efficient operation. Operates auxiliary equipment such as pumps, compressors, valves, switchgear, and water treatment systems under direction of control-room operator. Prepares and performs isolations in order to take equipment out of service, and returns equipment to service upon completion of isolations. Manipulates controls and observes control-panel indicators to test process sub-systems and protective devices. Acknowledges alarms, analyzes problems, and initiates corrective action in consultation with control-room operator. Trains subordinate personnel. Assists with preparation, transfer, loading, unloading, and storage of nuclear-fuel elements. Helps other workers to move heavy-water drums, and assists with sampling, cleaning, up-grading and introduction of heavy water to various systems. Prepares log of activities of shift crew. Carries out safety procedures related to detection and control of ionizing radiation and toxic gas levels.

Controls stationary high-pressure boilers and large bulk steam-distribution systems to supply steam heat for production of heavy water: Performs duties similar to those of 9533-122 STATIONARY ENGINEER, GENERAL (elec. power; utilities, n.e.c.) to operate boilers, auxiliary gas-turbine generators, and related electrical switching equipment. Actuates valves to fill boilers with water, and to maintain required level. Moves controls to regulate flow of fuel. Observes gauges and moves controls to maintain specified flow, temperature and pressure of steam, and to ensure efficient combustion and minimal pollutant emission. Tests boiler-feed water, and adds chemicals to condition water. Tightens pipe fittings, using hand tools. Operates incinerator chamber to reduce volume of combustible radioactive waste. Disposes of radioactive ash according to government regulations. Carries out safety procedures related to detection and control of ionizing radiation and toxic gas levels. Trains subordinate personnel. Operates sewage-treatment plant, if required.

9918-110 LABOURER, MUNICIPAL (gov. serv.)

Maintains sidewalks, streets, roads and public grounds of municipality, working as member of crew: Loads and unloads truck with tools and equipment. Sweeps and shovels snow and debris from streets, sidewalks, gutters and catch basins into cart or truck. Assists in positioning catch-basin vacuum cleaner. Adds cement and other materials to cement mixer, and mixes and pours concrete into forms as directed. Removes broken areas of pavement, and fills breaks and potholes with asphalt mix, using shovel, rake and tamping iron. Digs ditches and trenches. Scoops or shovels sand or salt on sidewalks. Operates power mower to cut grass, and cuts grass and weeds beside roadways, using scythe. Operates saws to cut branches from trees. Picks up litter, rakes leaves, places equipment, and performs other duties to maintain park grounds and playing areas in serviceable and tidy condition. Assists in repair of equipment. Performs a variety of other labouring duties.

9919-110 LABORATORY ASSISTANT (any ind.)

Prepares chemical solutions and samples, and cleans and distributes equipment in university, hospital, industrial, government or other laboratory: Reads manual to determine quantity and type of materials and equipment required. Calculates quantities of chemicals required to prepare specified quantities and concentrations of reagents, culture media, and other substances. Weighs and measures chemicals, using balances and graduated containers. Mixes liquid and solid chemicals. Performs simple titration, pH, and other tests to determine that solutions contain prescribed amounts of chemicals. Pours solutions into containers, and pushes cart to distribute containers to laboratory work stations. Selects and distributes required glassware and equipment, and collects used glassware for cleaning. Cleans balances, microscopes, and other laboratory equipment. Helps technician to collect blood, urine, fecal and other samples, if required. Labels samples and other materials. Operates centrifuge or other equipment to prepare samples for testing or analysis. Delivers samples and other materials to technicians.

CCDO PLACEMENT GUIDE

OPEN OCCUPATIONS

RATIONALE

Currently, the Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations (CCDO) has several hundred occupational definitions which have titles that are very restrictive for placement purposes. The duties of these occupations consist of simple, primarily manually-oriented tasks requiring little training. In comparing the duties of these occupations, it is obvious that the same duties are repeated over and over again, their only distinguishing features being title, industry designation, and 7-digit CCDO codes.

The Placement Guide was designed to allow more flexibility in using the CCDO for placement purposes in labouring and elemental occupations. The regrouping of these occupations as outlined here helps to broaden job searches but at the same time allows for specificity of coding and continuity of CCDO 7-digit codes.

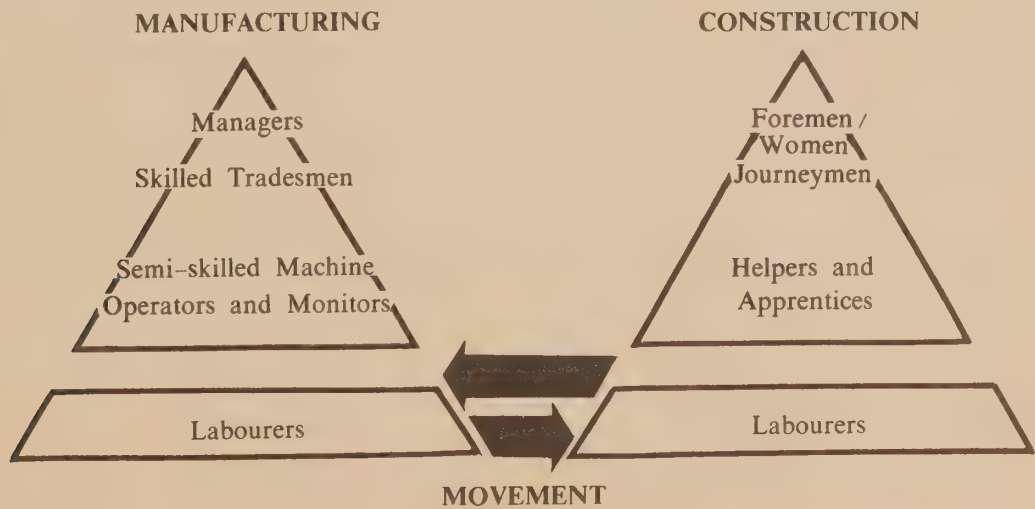

The CCDO classification structure is based upon two facets of occupations: 1) the kind of work performed, and 2) the level of complexity of the job in terms of skills, responsibility, and education and training requirements. The level of complexity determines placement within each unit group.

In industrial enterprises, the existence of occupational families containing jobs of varying complexity is well known. These occupations can be centered around a piece of equipment such as a press or around a functional department such as a billing or personnel office. Within these clusters of occupations, hierarchies of skill and responsibility are readily apparent.

|-------------------|----------------------------------|
| Locomotive | Billing Office |
| Engineer | Manager |
| Brake Worker | Assistant Managers |
| | Senior Clerks |
| | Bill Posters, Key Punchers, etc. |

In many Major Groups within the classification structure, separate unit groups are provided for the class of work commonly designated "labourer" or "elemental". However, this practice of providing unit groups for elemental occupations means that the same basic work functions appear in many areas of the classification structure. These occupations are not only found in the special CCDO unit groups called "Labourers and Other Elemental Workers", but they are scattered across most Major Groups and are found in the so-called entry, production, and other categories within the CCDO. These occupations have one thing in common, that they require no special skills to be performed. In other words, the bulk of these occupations require a maximum of grade 8 (GED 2) and vocational training of no more than 3 months (SVP 3).

Studies have determined that there is movement from one industrial sector to another in the elemental or labouring categories. In CCDO classification terms, workers shift from the lower levels of one job family to the lower levels of another, eg. from labouring in manufacturing to labouring in construction. In terms of the job family and content level concept in the CCDO, this phenomenon can be illustrated as follows:

A placement system based solely on this original CCDO structure obscures many options for job seekers. Hence, it is desirable to re-group occupations laterally to show transfer possibilities across Major, Minor and Unit groups and thus maximize placement possibilities. The labouring and elemental occupations which are included in this Guide have been designated "Open Occupations". Included are most occupations with a General Educational Development (GED) of 2 or less and a Specific Vocational Preparation (SVP) of 3 or less. The re-grouping is being made available as a guide to assist in the placement process.

STRUCTURE OF PLACEMENT GUIDE

The following is a list of the five placement groups and the seventeen sub-groups. They are based on broad industrial groupings and then broken down further into sub-groups of similar work performed and/or work environment:

- A. Clerical/Sales
 - 1. Clerical
 - 2. Sales
- B. Service
 - 1. Attendants and Personal Service Work
 - 2. Food Service
 - 3. Laundry and Dry Cleaning
 - 4. Cleaners and Maintenance Work
- C. Primary Industries
 - 1. Agricultural and Related Work
 - 2. Fishing
 - 3. Forestry and Logging
 - 4. Mining, Quarrying and Oil and Gas Well Drilling
- D. Manufacturing/Processing
 - 1. Assembling, Fabricating and Bench Work
 - 2. Manual Work
 - 3. Machine Attending, Light
 - 4. Machine Attending, Heavy
 - 5. Factory Labouring
- E. Construction and Transportation
 - 1. Construction Labouring
 - 2. Material Moving

Each occupation has been assigned to a placement group and a sub-group. Some occupations that meet the general selection criteria have been excluded because it was determined that they contained some tasks which could not be readily performed by workers without significant training or experience.

Those occupations which are marked by a dagger (†) behind the CCDO title are "peripheral" to the group. They are significantly more difficult than the core of unmarked jobs and would probably require that a job-seeker have some work experience in that occupation or another closely related occupation within the same sub-group.

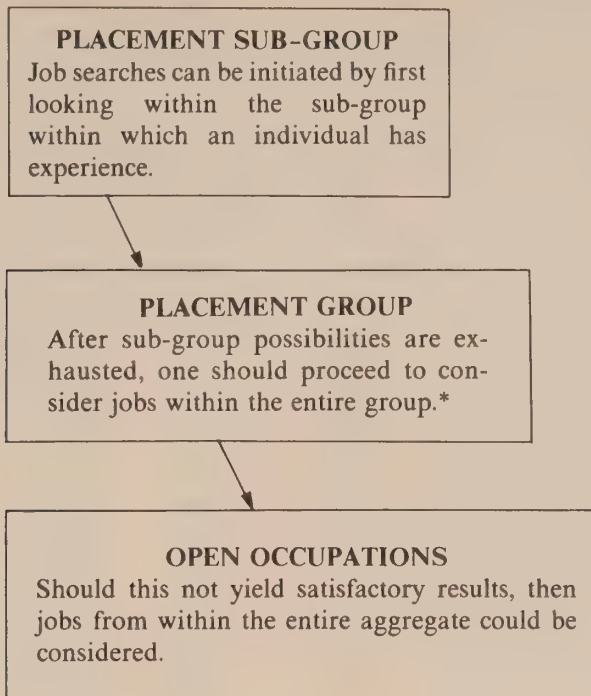

In this Placement Guide, the occupations are arranged and organized in two different ways. First, occupations in each placement group and sub-group are listed together. Their CCDO seven-digit code, CCDO title and Industry Designation are given. The placement groups are arranged in order according to their Alpha-numeric code: e.g. A1, A2, B1, B2, etc.

Secondly, a numeric index is provided, which includes all CCDO seven-digit codes found in the Placement Guide. Beside the seven-digit code is the alpha-numeric code designating the group and sub-group to which the occupation has been assigned.

To find out which occupations are included in a particular placement group or sub-group, one would consult the first arrangement. To find the group or sub-group to which a particular job has been assigned, one would look for its CCDO seven-digit code in the numeric index.

HOW TO USE THE PLACEMENT GUIDE

This listing of "Open Occupations" is designed to help individuals broaden their job search. Transferability should be high among all core jobs regardless of their placement group or sub-group. The following illustration outlines a procedure by which job searches can be made:

*Consideration should also be given to obvious employment opportunities which exist outside the group. For example, the close relationship that often exists between forestry and construction occupations at this level should not be overlooked.

Barriers resulting from differing physical and environmental job demands can be expected to increase as the job search expands. In some occupations there is a need for certain basic competencies that are normally acquired by working in a particular kind of environment. For example, there are certain simple tasks which all construction workers can perform. While none of the tasks included requires a significant training period, a lack of familiarity with them might act as a barrier to a person seeking to enter the industry for the first time. Most of the occupations designated "peripheral" would require familiarity with the work environment at the group or sub-group level.

GROUP A: CLERICAL/SALES

Occupations in the business or sales industries characterized by uncomplicated and routine work usually performed in an office or retail setting. The group has been divided into two sub-groups: 1. Clerical and 2. Sales. Simple clerical tasks such as counting, copying, recording and the operation of elemental office machines provide the basis of the work performed in the Clerical sub-group. The work performed in the Sales sub-group consists essentially of serving customers.

GROUP C: PRIMARY INDUSTRIES

Occupations in farming, fishing, mining and logging industries characterized by simple hand work such as manipulating, guiding and placing objects, materials and tools; routine feeding, offbearing, tending and maintenance of simple automatic machines; physically demanding activities such as lifting, carrying, moving and dumping.

The work varies from light to very heavy. The group has been sub-divided into four categories: 1. Agricultural and Related Work, 2. Fishing, 3. Forestry and Logging and 4. Mining, Quarrying and Oil and Gas Well Drilling.

C1 AGRICULTURAL AND RELATED WORK

|----------|--|
| 7187-136 | SHEARER, SHEEP † (agric.) |
| 7187-138 | LEAD PONY RIDER † (agric.; amuse. & rec.) |
| 7187-142 | YARD ATTENDANT, LIVESTOCK (slaught. & meat pack; whole. trade) |
| 7187-146 | GROOM (agric.) |
| 7191-114 | TENDER, MILKING MACHINE (agric.) |
| 7193-118 | HATCHERY WORKER † (agric.) |
| 7195-126 | GROUNDS KEEPER † (agric.) |
| 7195-130 | GROUNDS KEEPER, SPORTS FACILITY † (agric.; amuse. & rec.) |
| 7195-134 | PARK WORKER (agric.; amuse. & rec.) |
| 7195-138 | TREE SURGEON HELPER (agric.) |
| 7195-142 | EVERGREENS PICKER (forest. & log.) |
| 7195-146 | LANDSCAPE WORKER (agric.) |
| 7195-150 | SPRAYER, HAND (agric.) |
| 7198-110 | LABOURER, EGG-GRADING STATION (agric.) |
| 7198-112 | FARM LABOURER, GENERAL (agric.) |
| 7198-146 | LABOURER, SUGAR-BUSH (agric.) |
| 7198-150 | WORM PICKER (agric.) |
| 7199-116 | EGG-PROCESSING-MACHINE TENDER † (agric.) |
| 7199-118 | EGG CANDLER † (agric.) |
| 7199-122 | SORTER AND PACKER, AGRICULTURAL PRODUCE (agric.) |
| 7199-154 | KENNEL ATTENDANT † (agric.) |
| 7199-158 | ANIMAL ATTENDANT, ZOO † (agric.; amuse. & rec.) |
| 7199-162 | ATTENDANT, PET SHOP † (agric.; ret. trade) |
| 7199-190 | IRRIGATION WORKER † (agric.) |
| 7199-194 | BLIGHT-CONTROL WORKER (agric.) |

C2 FISHING

|----------|--|
| 7313-142 | FISHERMAN/WOMAN, HOOP NET † (fishing) |
| 7313-146 | FISHERMAN/WOMAN, LINE † (fishing) |
| 7313-150 | FISHERMAN/WOMAN, POT † (fishing) |
| 7313-154 | SHELLFISH-BED ATTENDANT † (fishing) |
| 7313-158 | SHELLFISH-HARVESTER DECKHAND † (fishing) |
| 7313-162 | FISHERMAN/WOMAN, TROLLER † (fishing) |
| 7319-134 | SEALER (fishing) |
| 7319-138 | SEAWEED GATHERER (fishing) |
| 7319-142 | WHARF WORKER, FISHING (fishing) |
| 7319-150 | LOBSTER-POUND ATTENDANT † (fishing) |
| 7319-154 | FISH TAGGER (fishing) |

C3 FORESTRY AND LOGGING

|----------|--|
| 7511-118 | TREE PRUNER (forest. & log.) |
| 7511-122 | FOREST-FIRE FIGHTER (forest. & log.; gov. serv.) |
| 7513-118 | FALLER AND BUCKER † (forest. & log.) |
| 7513-122 | LOGGER, ALL-ROUND † (forest. & log.) |
| 7513-126 | SWAMPER (forest. & log.) |
| 7513-130 | FALLER † (forest. & log.) |
| 7513-134 | BUCKER (forest. & log.) |
| 7517-150 | CHOKER HOOKER (forest. & log.) |
| 7517-154 | HYDRAULIC-AUGER OPERATOR (forest. & log.) |
| 7517-158 | LOG SALVAGER (forest. & log.) |
| 7518-110 | LOG LOADER (forest. & log.) |
| 7518-114 | SEED-CONE PICKER (forest. & log.) |
| 7518-118 | SPRAYER (forest. & log.) |
| 7518-122 | TREE PLANTER (forest. & log.) |
| 7518-126 | PULPWOOD PILER (forest. & log.) |

C4 MINING, QUARRYING AND OIL AND GAS WELL DRILLING

|----------|---|
| 7711-165 | WIRE-LINE-OPERATOR HELPER † (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7711-167 | REELED-TUBING-OPERATOR HELPER † (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7711-168 | WELL-TREATMENT HELPER † (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7711-170 | ROUSTABOUT † (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7713-150 | FOUNDATION-DRILL-OPERATOR HELPER † (construction) |
| 7713-154 | DRILLER HELPER, WATER-WELL † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7713-156 | RAISE-BORING-MACHINE-OPERATOR HELPER † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7713-158 | CORE-DRILL-OPERATOR HELPER (construction; mining & quarrying; oil & nat. gas) |
| 7713-162 | JACKHAMMER OPERATOR (construction; mining & quarrying) |
| 7713-166 | DRILLING-MACHINE-OPERATOR HELPER (construction; mining & quarrying) |
| 7715-142 | PIT-SCALER HELPER † (construction; mining & quarrying) |
| 7717-156 | SCOOP-TRAM OPERATOR † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7717-158 | PEAT MOSS-CUTTING-MACHINE OPERATOR † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7717-162 | PEAT MOSS-GATHERING-MACHINE OPERATOR (mining & quarrying) |
| 7717-166 | CHUTE LOADER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7717-170 | COBBER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-110 | LABOURER, GENERAL, MINE (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-114 | LABOURER, GENERAL, QUARRY (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-122 | ROCK DUSTER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-126 | SLATE PICKER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-130 | TIMBER AND STEEL-PROP SETTER HELPER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-134 | PEAT MOSS GATHERER, HYDRAULIC (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-142 | GRIZZLY WORKER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7718-146 | PEAT MOSS CUTTER, HAND (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-130 | SAMPLE WASHER (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7719-134 | CORE SPLITTER (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-178 | NIPPER † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-180 | PIPEWORKER HELPER † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-182 | MINER HELPER † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-186 | TIMBER AND STEEL-PROP SALVAGER † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-190 | BACK-FILLER † (mining & quarrying) |
| 7719-218 | OBSERVER HELPER, GRAVITY PROSPECTING † (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7719-220 | VIBRATOR OPERATOR, SEISMIC PROSPECTING † (oil & nat. gas) |
| 7719-222 | OBSERVER HELPER, SEISMIC PROSPECTING (oil & nat. gas) |

GROUP D: MANUFACTURING/PROCESSING

Occupations in manufacturing and processing industries characterized by the performance of routine tasks. The similarity of work context promotes a high degree of transferability among jobs in this group, limited mainly by the varying physical demands. This group has been divided into five sub-groups distinguished from one another by the work performed and degree of physical demand. They are arranged generally in order of increasing physical demand: 1. Assembling, Fabricating and Bench Work, 2. Manual Work, 3. Machine Attending, Light, 4. Machine Attending, Heavy and 5. Factory Labouring.

1. Assembling, Fabricating and Bench Work includes jobs involving the assembly or fabrication of components, using simple hand and powered tools and machines.

2. Manual Work includes jobs involving the dexterous use of hands to manipulate, guide and place objects, materials or tools. Elemental inspectors have been included in this group.

3. Machine Attending, Light includes jobs which involve feeding, offbearing and tending of uncomplicated machines. No significant physical demands are present.

4. Machine Attending, Heavy includes jobs which involve feeding, offbearing and tending of uncomplicated machines. Significant physical demands ranging from medium to very heavy are present.

5. Factory Labouring includes jobs which are characterized by physically demanding activities such as lifting, carrying, moving and dumping objects or materials. It should be noted that the work performed often resembles that found in jobs classified in both sub-groups of Group E, Construction and Transportation.

D1 ASSEMBLING, FABRICATING AND BENCH WORK

GROUP E: CONSTRUCTION AND TRANSPORTATION

Occupations in construction and transportation industries characterized by routine but usually physically demanding activities such as lifting, carrying, moving and dumping. The group has been divided into two sub-groups: 1. Construction Labouring and 2. Material Moving. Warehouse work is included in this latter category. It should be noted that the work performed in this group is often similar to that found in other groups, for example, C3 - Logging and Forestry, C4 - Mining and Natural Gas and D5 - Factory Labour.

INDEX SECTION

INTRODUCTION

The new CCDO Index is a large but highly functional arrangement of job and occupational titles. Studies have revealed that using the original Alphabetical Index of Occupational Titles was the most common method of locating occupations. However, most users found the 1971 Index to be a complex and confusing affair, so the new CCDO Index has been both simplified and greatly expanded. For the first time it is comprised of job titles as well as occupational titles. It now totals some 27,000 titles, or almost double the number of entries found in the 1971 Index. All of the original occupational titles have been included, with the exception of those found to be obsolete. Many new titles have been added as a result of revisions to certain Major Groups in the past year, and many additional job and occupational titles have been acquired through a variety of sources, the most important of which has been Statistics Canada. Numerous users have provided information on previous discrepancies, such as obsolete or incorrectly classified titles, and it is our earnest hope that such contributions will continue. Any information which might help to maintain the accuracy and precision of the CCDO and its Index may be directed to:

Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations System,
Canada Employment and Immigration Commission,
OTTAWA, Ontario. K1A 0J9

Users of the CCDO who are unable to locate a specific occupation or its title may direct enquiries to the same address, observing the following procedure:

1. Indicate the originator's name, address and telephone number;
2. Commence all communications with subject heading: "Coding Enquiry";
3. Give the job title(s) by which the occupation is known;
4. Indicate the industry;
5. Describe the job duties in full;
6. Describe the education and experience normally required to perform these duties.

Replies to coding enquiries will be made without delay. Occupations discovered as a result of coding enquiries will appear under the section "New CCDO Occupational Descriptions" in the next annual edition of the CCDO GUIDE.

While the new Index is much larger than its predecessor, it has also been made simpler and more convenient to use. Only two types of occupational titles are now listed, these being the official CCDO Title and Additional Titles.

The CCDO Title (previously identified as the Base Title) is the title by which an occupation is most commonly known in Canada, or which is most descriptive of the nature of the occupation. Printed in bold-face, upper-case font, the CCDO Title appears with the appropriate industry designation(s) and seven-digit code: e.g. FEATHER RENOVATOR (laund., clean. & press.) 6198-154. The CCDO Title is now the only occupational title to appear with the occupational description in the revised CCDO.

Additional Titles is the collective term given to all previous alternate, related, and example titles, as well as the various job titles which are now included. These are simply titles by which an occupation may be known in different parts of the country or in a variety of industries. An Additional Title may also be supplied to reflect a more specific work situation than that expressed by the CCDO Title. For example, 8735-142 PROTECTIVE-SIGNAL SERVICER (telecom.) has such Additional Titles as burglar-alarm servicer and fire-alarm servicer. An Additional Title may serve the further function of assisting the user to locate occupations whose titles have been changed so that they are no longer sex-discriminatory. Such previous titles as REPAIRMAN and FOREMAN now appear as Additional Titles to the CCDO Titles replacing them, REPAIRER and FOREMAN/WOMAN respectively. Like the CCDO Titles, Additional Titles appear with the appropriate industry designation(s) and seven-digit code number, but they are printed in bold-face, lower-case font:

asphalt-spreader operator (construction) 8713-114.

Additional Titles appear in both the CCDO Index and in the indices to the Major Group books, but they are not included in the occupational descriptions.

A list of industry designations and their abbreviations follow the CCDO Index of Job/Occupational Titles. Entries in upper-case font are actual industry designations, and those in lower-case font are inversions provided to assist the user in their identification and location. In the last part of the CCDO Index, definitions are provided for each of the 95 Industry Designations.

DEFINITIONS OF INDUSTRY DESIGNATIONS

The following descriptions of industry designations are arranged alphabetically by industry title.

AGRICULTURE (agric.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with growing crops and nursery stock; raising and caring for livestock, poultry and other animals; and providing related agricultural services. Activities concerned with veterinary services are designated Professional and Technical Services, n.e.c.

AIR AND SPACE-CRAFT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (air & space-craft)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing aerospace vehicles, parts, engines and accessories. Activities concerned with manufacturing electrical components are designated Electrical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing; manufacturing electronic components are designated Electronic Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing.

AIR TRANSPORT (air trans.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transporting passengers and cargo by aircraft; servicing aircraft; and operating airports, flying schools and clubs and support facilities. Activities concerned with repairing aircraft, engines, components and accessories are designated Air and Space-Craft Manufacturing and Repairing.

AMUSEMENT AND RECREATION (amuse. & rec.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing amusement and recreation facilities or services such as playgrounds, rinks, racetracks, swimming pools, health and athletic clubs, and community centres; presenting or participating in entertainment such as motion pictures, theatre performances and athletic games or contests; and preparing, training and conditioning participants.

ANIMAL AND VEGETABLE OIL EXTRACTING (animal & veg. oil)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing vegetable, animal and fish oils and by-products, such as linseed oil, bone and fish meal.

ANY INDUSTRY (any ind.)

This designation is applied to activities that are common to four or more industry designations. Some activities of this type might logically be designated "any industry" but are allocated to other specific designations such as "clerical", "machining, welding and forging" or "woodworking". In many cases the "any industry" activities of the workers involved, for example those in material handling, are exactly the same from industry to industry.

ASBESTOS AND MINERAL WOOL PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (asbestos & min. wool)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing mineral wool from non-metallic materials such as limestone, slag and glass; and manufacturing building materials and other commodities primarily composed of asbestos.

ASPHALT ROOFING MANUFACTURING (asphalt roof.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing asphalt saturated shingles and sidings, roofing felts and sheathings, and smooth-surfaced and mineral-surfaced roll roofings.

BAKERY PRODUCTS (bake. prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing biscuits, bread, cakes, crackers, pastries, pretzels and other bakery products. Activities concerned with distributing and selling bakery products are designated Wholesale Trade or Retail Trade.

BANKING AND FINANCE (bank. & finance)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing financial services in banks, mortgage and loan companies or similar savings or credit institutions; investment companies; security and commodity exchanges and other financial institutions.

BROADCASTING, MOTION PICTURE AND STAGE PRODUCTION (broadcast., motion pic. & stage)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with producing and broadcasting radio and television programs; producing motion pictures and theatre performances; processing motion picture films; and operating radio and television studios. Activities concerned with transmitting and receiving radio and television signals are designated Telecommunications.

BUSINESS SERVICES (bus. serv.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing, for other businesses or individuals, services; such as, auditing, accounting, legal, advertising and data processing; engineering consulting; customs brokerage and management consulting; supplying statistical information; accident prevention associations; security, news clipping, translating and interpreting; collection agencies; public stenography; and telephone answering, mail addressing, blueprinting, lettering and sign painting, and duplicating.

CANNING AND PRESERVING, N.E.C. (can. & preserv., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with canning, freezing, drying and preserving foods, not elsewhere classified; such as, fruits and vegetables and their juice, frozen dinners, soups, jams, jellies, pickles, cider, vinegar and sauces.

CATERING AND LODGING (cater. & lodg.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing and maintaining lodging, dining, beverage and catering services; and operating tourist camps.

CEMENT, STONE AND CLAY PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (cement, stone & clay)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing cement and lime; gypsum, concrete, clay and refractory products; and cutting, shaping and finishing stone for building and other purposes. Activities concerned with using concrete for construction are designated Construction; and quarrying stone is designated Mining and Quarrying.

CHEMICAL MANUFACTURING (chem., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing chemicals and chemical products, not elsewhere classified, for industrial or domestic use, such as fertilizers, synthetic resins, transparent cellulose film, industrial inorganic chemicals, ingredients for paint, insecticides, germicides, adhesives, deodorants, disinfectants, sweeping compounds, polishes and dry cleaning preparations.

CLERICAL (clerical)

This designation is applied to activities providing clerical services such as bookkeeping, stenography, typing, and record keeping; storing, distributing and accounting for materials; and operating various office machines. Activities of a clerical nature that are peculiar to an individual industry are designated accordingly.

CONFECTIONERY MANUFACTURING (confection.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing candies, chocolates, cocoa products, chewing gum and other confectionery, such as salted nuts, stuffed dates and popcorn.

CONSTRUCTION (construction)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with constructing, remodelling and repairing bridges, dams, airports, piers, buildings, highways, streets, pipelines, railways, canals, locks, sewers, tunnels, and waterworks; and wrecking buildings and other structures.

DAIRY PRODUCTS PROCESSING (dairy)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with pasteurizing and bottling milk; and manufacturing dairy products such as cheese, butter, powdered milk, sherbets and ice cream. Activities concerned with distributing and selling dairy products are designated Wholesale Trade or Retail Trade.

DISTILLING, BREWING AND FERMENTING (distill., brew. & ferment.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing alcoholic beverages and ethyl alcohol whether or not the alcohol is ultimately used to make potable spirits. Activities concerned with methyl, butyl and isopropyl alcohols are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING (educ.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with imparting knowledge and developing skills in schools, colleges, universities, businesses, and governments; providing related services, such as correspondence courses; and operating libraries, museums, archives and other repositories.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (electric. equip.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing equipment such as generators, motors, transformers, panel boards, electrical appliances and devices, telephone and telegraph equipment, lighting equipment, batteries, and electrical supplies used in generating, transmitting, distributing, storing and utilizing electrical energy. Activities concerned with manufacturing electronic equipment are designated Electronic Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing; manufacturing industrial refrigeration and air conditioning equipment are designated Mechanical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.; and manufacturing electric wire and cable are designated Wire and Wire Products Manufacturing.

ELECTRIC POWER, GENERATING AND DISTRIBUTING (elec. power)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with generating, transmitting and distributing electricity; and constructing and maintaining lines and equipment. Activities concerned with building hydro electric generating stations, including dams and other heavy construction work, are designated Construction.

ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (electronic equip.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing electronic equipment such as radio and television receivers and transmitters, industrial monitoring and continuous control systems, computers and data processing equipment, power supplies, and electronic test equipment; electronic sub-components such as control panels, printed circuit boards, speakers, antennas and associated wiring and cable harnesses; and manufacturing electronic components such as electron tubes and semi-conductor devices, resistors, capacitors and filters.

EXPLOSIVES AND AMMUNITION MANUFACTURING (explosives)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing explosives, ammunition, solid propellant rocket fuels, fuses, detonating devices, fireworks and flares.

FEED AND FLOUR MILLING (feed & flour mill.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing animal feeds; mixing and grinding grains; and milling flour and meal. Activities concerned with manufacturing breakfast cereals are designated Food and Beverage Processing, n.e.c.

FISHING (fishing)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with catching or gathering fish, shellfish, marine mammals and other forms of marine life, such as sponges and seaweed from the ocean or inland waters; processing sea products on board ship; operating fish hatcheries; and providing fishery inspection and protection services. Activities concerned with canning and preserving fish on shore, are designated Fish Processing.

FISH PROCESSING (fish process.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with canning, freezing, curing or otherwise processing fish, shellfish and marine vegetation. Activities concerned with manufacturing fish oil and meal are designated Animal and Vegetable Oil Extracting.

FOOD AND BEVERAGE PROCESSING, N.E.C. (food & bev., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing baking and cooking ingredients and foods, not elsewhere classified, such as baking powder, flavouring extracts, syrups, malt, starch and its products, jelly powders, yeast, prepared cocoanut, powdered eggs, health foods, peanut butter, breakfast foods and cereals, coffee, tea, spices, and non-alcoholic beverages. Activities concerned with manufacturing fruit juices and vinegar are designated Canning and Preserving, n.e.c.; and manufacturing sugar syrups are designated Sugar Refining.

FORESTRY AND LOGGING (forest. & log.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with cutting trees and transporting the logs from the forest to further processing or shipping points; operating timber tracts including forest nurseries and reforestation; cultivating Christmas trees; preventing and fighting forest fires; and forest pest control. Activities concerned with growing ornamental trees are designated Agriculture.

FUR GOODS MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (fur goods)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing fur garments, accessories and trimmings. Activities concerned with fur dressing and dyeing are designated Leather Tanning, and Fur Dressing and Dyeing.

FURNITURE MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (furn.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing household, office, plant and store furniture; upholstery; and manufacturing mattresses and springs. Activities concerned with the manufacture of stone furniture are designated Cement, Stone and Clay Products Manufacturing.

GARMENT AND FABRIC MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (garment & fabric)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing, dressmaking, tailoring and repairing adults' and children's clothing including foundation garments, hats, caps and gloves and other fabric products such as sheets, draperies and canvas goods. Activities concerned with manufacturing knit gloves and other knit goods are designated Knit Goods Manufacturing; and manufacturing fur garments and accessories are designated Fur Goods Manufacturing and Repairing.

GLASS AND GLASS PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (glass)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing glass and glass products. Activities concerned with grinding and polishing optical lenses are designated Scientific and Industrial Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.; spinning glass yarns are designated Synthetic Fibres Manufacturing; and weaving glass fabrics are designated Textile Manufacturing.

GOVERNMENT SERVICES (gov. serv.)

This designation is applied to activities primarily concerned with governmental activities at federal, provincial or municipal level which are not covered by other designations.

HUNTING AND TRAPPING (hunt. & trap.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with hunting and trapping wild animals for commercial purposes; and game propagation and related activities. Activities concerned with catching marine mammals are designated Fishing.

INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE (insur. & real estate)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with underwriting and selling insurance contracts; adjusting insurance claims; and appraising, developing, buying, selling, renting and managing real property.

IRON AND STEEL PROCESSING (iron & steel)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with processing iron ore; manufacturing pig iron and ferro-alloys, steel ingots, and iron or steel castings; rolling steel into sheets; and forming other shapes, including welded and seamless steel pipe and tubing.

JEWELLERY AND PRECIOUS METAL PRODUCTS

MFG. AND REPAIRING (jewellery & precious metal prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing articles from precious metals; lapidary work; cutting, polishing and mounting precious stones; plating with precious metals; engraving; and manufacturing costume jewellery.

KNIT GOODS MANUFACTURING (knit goods)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing knitted tubular or flat fabrics and shaped garments such as outerwear, underwear, gloves and hosiery. Activities concerned with manufacturing other garments are designated Garment and Fabric Manufacturing and Repairing.

LAUNDERING, CLEANING AND PRESSING (laund., clean. & press.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with laundering, dry cleaning, dyeing and pressing clothing and furnishings; and providing towel, coat, uniform and linen supply services.

LEATHER TANNING, AND FUR DRESSING AND DYEING (leather tan. & fur dress.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with tanning, scraping, currying, bleaching, dyeing and finishing hides, pelts, leather and furs.

LINOLEUM AND ALLIED PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (linoleum prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing linoleum, printed felt-base rugs and asphalt, rubber, cork and vinyl tile, and other hard surface floor coverings. Activities concerned with manufacturing other rubber flooring are designated Rubber Products Manufacturing.

LUGGAGE, HANDBAG AND SMALL LEATHER GOODS MFG. AND REPAIRING (leather goods)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing products made of leather or other materials, not elsewhere classified, such as luggage, handbags, saddlery, small leather goods and similar products. Activities concerned with manufacturing leather gloves are designated Garment and Fabric Manufacturing and Repairing.

MACHINING, WELDING AND FORGING (mach., weld. & forg.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with machining, welding, forging and heat treating metal, except those considered peculiar to a specific industry which are designated accordingly.

MECHANICAL EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING, N.E.C. (mech. equip., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing refrigeration and air conditioning equipment; industrial, railway and marine engines; office machinery; and other mechanical equipment and machinery, not elsewhere classified, used in such industries as, agriculture, construction, printing, food processing and manufacturing. Activities concerned with manufacturing cutting tools for power driven hand tools and machines are designated Metal Fabricating, n.e.c.

MEDICAL SERVICES (medical)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing medical, dental, and hospital care and related services to people. Activities concerned with providing custodial or domiciliary care are designated Social Welfare Services; optician services are designated Retail Trade; and dental laboratory services are designated Scientific and Industrial Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.

METAL FABRICATING, N.E.C. (metal fab., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing hardware, tools, cutlery, heating equipment, weapons, locks, vaults, metal machinery fittings and springs, and other miscellaneous metal products not elsewhere classified. Activities concerned with manufacturing heating equipment from steel plate are designated Structural, Plate and Ornamental Metal Working.

METAL STAMPING, PRESSING AND COATING (metal stamp., press. & coat.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing sheet, stamped, pressed or coated metal products; and with electroplating, except with precious metals. Activities concerned with sheet metal work in building construction are designated Construction; and plating with precious metals are designated Jewellery and Precious Metal Products Manufacturing and Repairing.

MINING AND QUARRYING (mining & quarrying)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with prospecting for, and extracting minerals by underground and surface excavation; quarrying and crushing rock; primary processing of non-metallic ores; extracting and screening sand and gravel; extracting and refining salt or potash; and drilling water wells. Activities concerned with drilling and operating petroleum and gas wells are designated Oil and Natural Gas Production.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS FABRICATING, N.E.C. (misc. prod. fab., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing miscellaneous items, not elsewhere classified, such as brooms and brushes, window shades, advertising signs, musical instruments, beauty and barber shop equipment, umbrellas, tobacco pipes, art goods, buckles, candles, rubber and metal stamps, pens, pencils, and artists' materials. Activities concerned with sign painting and lettering are designated Business Services.

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES (misc. serv.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with services provided by labour, trade, business, professional and other membership organizations representing groups of employees, employers, trades or professions; political, fraternal, social and community organizations; portrait and commercial photography; film processing; disinfecting and exterminating services; and equipment rental agencies and auctioneering. Activities concerned with motor vehicle rental are designated Motor Vehicle Transport; and processing motion picture films for theatre and television use are designated Broadcasting, Motion Picture and Stage Production.

MOTOR VEHICLE MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (motor vehicle)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing, rebuilding and repairing motor vehicles, snowmobiles, freight trailers, mobile homes, vehicle parts, engines and accessories.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT (motor trans.)

This designation is applied to public or private company activities concerned with transporting freight and passengers by truck, bus, taxi or hired motor vehicles; and operating terminals, parking lots and garages for the dispatching and storage of motor vehicles.

NON-FERROUS METAL PROCESSING (non-ferrous metal)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with dressing, smelting and refining non-ferrous metallic ores; making non-ferrous metal alloys; processing non-ferrous metals into bars, extrusions, plate, foil, powders, sheets, tubing, castings and other forms; and with recovering non-ferrous materials from scrap.

NON-METALLIC MINERAL PRODUCTS

MANUFACTURING, N.E.C. (non-metal. min. prod., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing non-metallic mineral products, not elsewhere classified, such as primary abrasive materials; abrasive grinding wheels, stones, paper and cloths; buffing and polishing wheels; mica products; and expanded vermiculite and roofing granules. Activities concerned with manufacturing petroleum and coal products are designated Petroleum and Coal Products Manufacturing; and manufacturing asbestos products are designated Asbestos and Mineral Wool Products Manufacturing.

OIL AND NATURAL GAS PRODUCTION (oil & nat. gas)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with prospecting for petroleum or natural gas deposits; drilling petroleum or natural gas wells; processing natural gas; producing petroleum from surface or shale sands; and providing services to operate petroleum and natural gas fields.

PAINT AND VARNISH MANUFACTURING (paint & varn.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing paints, varnishes, lacquers, enamels, shellac and associated materials, such as putty, filler and oil stain.

PAPER PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (paper prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing paper products from paper and wood pulp derivatives or in combination with materials such as synthetics or foils.

PERSONAL SERVICES, N.E.C. (pers. serv., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities, not elsewhere classified; concerned with barbering, hairdressing, beautician, undertaking, domestic and related services; shoeshining; steam baths; guiding and escorting; babysitting services; renting clothes; and checking parcels and clothes.

PETROLEUM AND COAL PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (petrol. & coal prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with refining crude petroleum and producing petroleum products; blending lubricating oils and greases; and manufacturing petroleum and coal products such as fuel briquettes, coke, coal gas, road emulsions and roofing compounds.

PHARMACEUTICALS, MEDICINES AND TOILETRIES MANUFACTURING (pharm. & toil.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing pharmaceuticals and medicines including antibiotics, biological products, and veterinary medicines; and toiletries such as perfumes, cosmetics, lotions, toothpastes and hair dressings.

PLASTIC PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (plastic prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with moulding, extruding and fabricating plastic products, articles or parts. Activities concerned with manufacturing vinyl floor coverings are designated Linoleum and Allied Products Manufacturing.

PRINTING AND PUBLISHING (print. & pub.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with commercial or job printing, lithographing, blankbook making, and bookbinding; and publishing books, periodicals or newspapers. Activities concerned with providing blueprinting and duplicating services are designated Business Services. Printing activities, such as those concerned with printing patterns, designs or lettering on cloth and other materials, or stamping or making items, are designated according to the product or service.

PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL SERVICES, N.E.C. (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing professional and technical services, not elsewhere classified, which occur in several industries. Professional and technical activities that are peculiar to a particular industry are designated accordingly.

PULP AND PAPER MANUFACTURING (pulp & paper)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing pulp by mechanical or chemical means; production of paper and paperboard made from either woodpulp or rags; and with barking pulpwood. Activities concerned with manufacturing paper products are designated Paper Products Manufacturing.

RAIL TRANSPORT (rail trans.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transporting passengers and freight by railroad or urban rail transport; operating railway terminals; maintaining tracks and lines; and providing other support facilities and allied services, such as dining car facilities and policing of railway properties. Activities concerned with repairing railway rolling stock are designated Railway Rolling Stock Manufacturing and Repairing; and railway construction are designated Construction.

RAILWAY ROLLING STOCK MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (rail. rolling stock)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing locomotives, railway cars and electric urban passenger vehicles. Activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing engines for locomotives are designated Mechanical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.

RELIGION (religion)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing spiritual and moral guidance. Supporting activities are designated according to their principal function.

RETAIL TRADE (ret. trade)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with buying merchandise and selling to the general public for personal or household consumption.

RUBBER PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (rubber)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing a variety of rubber products including tires and tubes, re-treaded tires, rubber footwear, rubberized fabrics and rubber flooring. Activities concerned with manufacturing synthetic rubber are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.; manufacturing rubberized clothing are designated Garment and Fabric Manufacturing and Repairing; and manufacturing rubber tile are designated Linoleum and Allied Products Manufacturing.

SAWMILL (sawmill)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with sawing logs and producing rough and dressed lumber and other products, such as shingles, and cooperage and box stock. Activities concerned with barking of pulpwood are designated Pulp and Paper Manufacturing; and making barrels are designated Woodworking.

SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT MFG. AND REPAIRING, N.E.C. (scient. & ind. equip., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing scientific, professional and industrial instruments, apparatus and equipment, not elsewhere classified, including optical instruments, ophthalmic goods and photographic equipment; surgical, medical, and dental apparatus; prosthetic devices; mechanical measuring and controlling instruments; and clocks, watches and timers.

SHIP AND BOAT BUILDING AND REPAIRING (ship & boat bldg.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with building and repairing ships, barges and lighters; and small craft such as power boats, sail boats and canoes. Activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing marine engines are designated Mechanical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.

SHOE MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (shoes)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing footwear. Activities concerned with manufacturing rubber footwear are designated Rubber Products Manufacturing.

SLAUGHTERING AND MEAT PACKING (slaught. & meat pack.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with operating abattoirs, and meat and poultry packing plants; butchering; and canning and preparing meats and meat specialties. Activities concerned with making synthetic sausage casings are designated Plastic Products Manufacturing; and producing animal fats and oils are designated Animal and Vegetable Oil Extracting.

SOAP AND CLEANING COMPOUNDS

MANUFACTURING (soap)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing soap, synthetic detergents, cleansers, laundry bleaches, bluing, and washing, scouring and cleaning compounds. Activities concerned with manufacturing sweeping compounds and polishes are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.

SOCIAL WELFARE SERVICES (social wel.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing custodial or domiciliary care in establishments, such as convalescent and rest homes, orphanages, and homes for the aged; providing social welfare services such as those available from children's aid societies and other welfare organizations for the ill, handicapped, young, aged and indigent. Activities concerned with providing custodial or domiciliary care for criminals or delinquents are designated Government Services.

SPORTING GOODS AND TOY MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (sport. & toy)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing sporting goods such as bicycles, fishing tackle, and equipment used in golf, tennis, hockey, baseball, football and other sports; and toys of all kinds.

STORAGE AND WAREHOUSING, N.E.C. (storage, n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with operating grain elevators, and cold storage, warehouse and other storage facilities, not elsewhere classified. Activities concerned with storage of motor vehicles are designated Motor Vehicle Transport; warehouse and storage facilities related to a specific industry are designated accordingly.

STRUCTURAL, PLATE AND ORNAMENTAL METAL WORKING (struct., plate & ornam. metal)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with fabricating structural, plate and ornamental metal for such use as heating and power boilers, tanks, structural metal work for bridges and buildings, fire escapes, metal doors and windows. Activities concerned with erecting and repairing structural, plate and ornamental products are designated Construction; and manufacturing cast iron heating equipment are designated Metal Fabricating, n.e.c.

SUGAR REFINING (sugar)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing cane and beet sugar, sugar syrups, molasses and by-products, such as beet pulp for cattle feed and soil conditioners. Activities concerned with manufacturing corn, maple or other syrups are designated Food and Beverage Processing, n.e.c.

SYNTHETIC FIBRES MANUFACTURING (syn. fibres)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing textile fibres, such as those made from cellulose, synthetics or glass.
